

Pensioners Get Raise

Every little bit helps, is the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, 3275 Seaton Road, as they received their first "old-age" pension cheque with the new $5 addition. Between 30,000 and 35,000 old-age security, old-age assistance, and blind pensioners will get the added $5 monthly hike, as well as about 15,000 individuals on social assistance. Total bill to B.C. will be about $200,000 monthly. Most cheques have been mailed, some delayed in processing. Those missing April cheques get $10 in May. (Times Photo.)

'Puzzling' $2 Million Sea Island Fire To Be Investigated by RCAF

To Address Congress

On Tuesday afternoon Governor-General Vincent Massey will address a joint meeting of the two Houses of the United States Congress. Mr. Massey, making his first state visit to a foreign capital since becoming governor-general will be accompanied by Defense Minister Brooke Claxton and U.S. Ambassador to Canada R. Douglas Stuart. Monday night Mr. Massey will be the dinner guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower. The governor-general will give a dinner for the Eisenhower family at the Canadian Embassy Tuesday evening.

New Rail Links Will Open Rich Mineral Country

OTTAWA (BUP)—Plans for two new railway lines to tap northern Canadian mineral riches were announced today by Transport Minister Lionel Chevier.

Authority will be sought to build routes to the Chibougamau and Beattyville areas of northern Quebec and to Lake Manitowadigo in Ontario. The two routes will cover approximately 288 and 25 miles respectively and cost an estimated total of $38,750,000.

VANCOUVER (BUP)—An Air Force board of inquiry was set up today to investigate a mysterious fire which ripped through the main hangar of the RCAF Sea Island base Thursday night which destroyed six planes, and caused damage estimated at $2,000,000.

The fire, which broke out in a heating plant in a storage portion of the 14-year-old building, raged out of control for several hours as violent explosions rocked the island at the mouth of the Fraser River.

Wing Commander D. C. S. McDonald said a Lancaster bomber, two Expediter Beechcrafts, two Otters and one helicopter were lost in the blaze. The hangar housed the air-sea rescue unit, an air-transit group, and a flying school. The planes belonged to the rescue group.

"This is a most serious blow to station operations," Wing Cmdr. McDonald said. "An air force board will hold an immediate inquiry. There has been no suggestion of sabotage although the cause of the fire was very puzzling."

Explosions set off by gasoline in the planes in the hangar rocked the area and Verey pistols set up weird glows above the flames. The walls collapsed with a deafening roar as the flames spread.

Catastrophe was averted when a quick-thinking corporal organized a crew of men to move vehicles, including loaded fuel trucks, from an adjoining compound.

About 75 airmen swarmed through the smoke-filled hangar and rolled out several planes. The planes were locked and the airmen had to smash the glass windows of the cabins to get in and release the brakes. They managed to save three Canso flying boats but the tail assembly of the Lancaster caught fire before it could be dragged from the hangar.

LONDON (UP)—Britain announced today it will lift all controls Monday on exports of rubber to Russia and her European satellites but is keeping the ban on shipments to Red China.

15,000 Greeks Homeless After Violent 'Quake'

ATHENS (AP)—At least 15,000 were made homeless by an earthquake which tumbled houses like packs of cards near Athens this afternoon. Interior Minister John Nikolitsas said tonight.

He said the calamity was "comparable only to the catastrophic earthquake which laid waste the Ionian Islands last August."

Nikolitsas told a reporter that in Sophades, near Karditsa, 98 per cent of the houses collapsed. Six persons were killed, several injured, and about 4,000 people became homeless, he said.

In Karditsa 75 per cent of the houses collapsed and about 10,000 lost their homes.

In Pharsala 80 per cent of the houses collapsed and there was an unspecified number of dead and wounded.

Athens observatory seismographs registered at 9:03 a.m. an earthquake of intensity with an epicentre about 200 miles northwest of Athens. The epicentre was situated in central Greece near Trikala and Agrafa.

Daring French Defenders Attack Reds

HANOI (AP)—French Union commandos in daring daylight raids struck again today at Communist-led Viet Minh troops edging their way inch by inch towards the heart of Dien Bien Phu.

Five swift attacks were launched northwest, north, south and east of the main French defense complex, netting 20 Viet Minh killed and the smashing of rebel gun positions and arms depots right on the rim of the fortress.

Rebel progress in encroaching slowly upon French defenses was confined to gains of feet or yards and often these were being lost in light but swift attacks by the French defenders. It was still 1,800 feet to the heart of the main French defense complex.

8 NATIONS, VIET MINH WILL CONFER

Indo-China Parley Agreed in Principle

By MAX HARRELSON

GENEVA (AP)—The East and West today were reported virtually agreed that nine parties will sit around the conference table on Indo-China.

They will be the Big Four, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France, plus Communist China, representatives of the Communist-led Viet Minh Indo-China rebels and the three French-sponsored Indo-China governments of Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

French informants said a few details remain to be worked out, but it appears that the major obstacles had been removed from the start of a parley on Indo-China as soon as the current fruitless debates on Korea are concluded.

This word from the French indicates that Bao Dai, the Viet Nam chief of state, has agreed that his representatives will meet with the Viet Minh. Bao Dai's previous opposition to the rebels' participation had been the major obstacle preventing organization of the talks.

Agreement on the composition of the talks would make it possible for invitations to be sent out at once to the three Indo-China states and to the Viet Minh regime. The other proposed participants already are in Geneva.

KOREA 'HOPELESS'

Most observers already have written off any chances of a Korean settlement as hopeless. The proposals of the Communists and the west are as far apart as they were in 1948 when the United Nations first approved its plan for unification of the divided peninsula by UN-supervised elections.

Drinks Decision in 60 Days Seen for Esquimalt, Oak Bay

Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich residents will be faced with the decision on whether to approve the new liquor outlets within two months.

Here are the steps to be taken before cocktail bars and restaurants serving wine and beer with meals can be put into operation in the three outside municipalities:

First, they must be designated as licensing areas by the Liquor Commission. Col. Dr. McGugan indicated Thursday that this could take as long as a month.

After designation, implementation of the new Liquor Act is subject to two local-option hurdles. Any one of the municipal councils could ask for a plebiscite like that held in Victoria Wednesday; or drags could force a plebiscite through a petition of 35 per cent of the eligible voters.

If no plebiscite is called, or forced, the Liquor Commission will process all applications made for new outlet licenses. Issuing of licenses could take from one week to a month, and a further delay would be necessary.

BOY 'NOT RESPONDING' AFTER CYCLE MISHAP

A 12-year-old student at the Protestant Orphanage remained in only semi-conscious condition at noon today after a collision with a playmate at 8:40 a.m., while riding his bicycle.

Jubilee Hospital officials said the injured boy, Gilbert Payne, was in only fair condition, "... not responding too well."

Georgina Watkins, 9, also resident at the Orphanage, was also hurt in the collision and was taken to hospital but released later after treatment.

IWA, OPERATORS TALKS COLLAPSE

Deadlock Over Union Security Clause Puts Problem in Hands of Conciliation Officer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Negotiations between British Columbia coastal woodworkers and lumber operators have ended in deadlock, Joe Morris, district president of the International Woodworkers of America (CCL-CIO), said today.

The union is negotiating for a 1954-55 master agreement which includes a hold-the-line policy on wages. Present cost-of-living scale is $1.49 an hour.

Mr. Morris said the union has referred the dispute to the conciliation branch of the provincial labor department and that a conciliation officer will be appointed to try to iron out the difficulties.

He said the deadlock resulted from a stipulation by Forest Industrial Relations, Ltd., representing the operators, that the union "withdraw all proposals for an additional degree of union security as a prior condition to any agreement on any or all of the remaining proposals for contract revision."

BOTH STAND FIRM

The district president, representing 32,000 coastal loggers, said "this insistent demand for the elimination of one of the union's major proposals from the discussions as the price to be paid for any hope of settlement, precluded the possibility of agreement being reached at this stage."

J. M. Billings, manager of F.I.R., said in a statement: "The operators again steadily refused to agree to any settlement."

MIDNIGHT DEADLINE

Federal income tax officials today warned the public midnight tonight is the deadline for filing of returns on 1953 incomes.

Southern Portion Suffers 95% Damage

VANCOUVER (CP)—Up to 95 per cent of the cherry, apricot and peach crop has been destroyed by frost in the south Okanagan Valley area 200 miles east of here, horticulturists said today.

Fringe areas suffered 20 per cent damage, and on the overall picture throughout the area, orchardists predicted a 25 per cent loss.

John Smith, supervising horticulturist at Kelowna, centre of the fruit-growing area, said it would be several weeks before the apple picture was clarified, but that the northern part of the Okanagan had escaped "rather lightly."

"The apple buds were not sufficiently developed to suffer too greatly," he said. Mr. Smith said that while he would hesitate to estimate the cash loss, damage in the south area "was severe."

Even Akivik on the Arctic Ocean was warmer than some parts of B.C. overnight—with a minimum temperature of 17 above, compared with the 11 above registered at Prince George.

Records for April 30 were shattered as Vancouver's air temperatures skidded to 31 above. Abbotsford in the Fraser Valley hit 27 above; Kamloops registered 17 and Penticton 22.

More Frost in Low Areas Tonight

There is no snow on the ground, no ice on the puddles, and no frost on the windows—but there might as well be, according to weatherman William Mackie.

"I'm putting this month at the bottom of the list where I can forget it ever happened," he said today. "Our mean temperature so far has been 46.6 degrees, only a shade higher than the all-time low of 1911 and 1920."

Hours of sunshine and rainfall will be about normal for April, according to present totals of 1923 hours and

120 inches. Only the temperature has been out of line. "There has been no record low," he said. "That was 27.7 degrees, set in April of 1911."

He predicted frost in sheltered areas and clear skies tonight and Saturday, with light winds. Temperatures will range between 35 and 53 degrees.

Mr. Mackie said today he had discharged one of his staff.

"Remember that groundhog we had around here that made the prediction in February of all that mild weather," he said. "I've kicked him out."

Audrey Had a Svelte Time Dieting

The caterer's loss will be the couturier's gain, Audrey Johnson wails as she reaches the end of her Times-Josephine Lowman diet. "Only one dress will fit me now," she complains, while friend, Elsie Edwards, decided

Audrey has enough unnecessary dress material for a junior-size circus tent. It's all the boss's fault—he started the idea—so the least he can do is finance a new wardrobe. (Audrey can dream, can't she?) — (Times Photos)

LOOK OUT, BOSS, SHE'S AFTER A RAISE

Diet Finished, Audrey Needs New Wardrobe for Trim Figure

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

I sit down to write this final report on the nine-day diet probe with a light heart! Something else is light too. The hands that are typing these words are attached to a body that is eight and one-half pounds lighter than it was nine days ago!

I weighed in last night, folks, and those were the figures, checked and double-checked, by hubby—who, incidentally, closely inspected the scales, suspicion of hocus-pocus and funny business oozing at every pore.

Now, however, old sour grapes has to admit that all is accurate and above-board. Of course, the boss is demanding to know what happened to that other pound-and-a-half I was supposed to lose. I told him I had gained one-and-a-half laughing at my own jokes in these articles.

When the boss pins you to the wall with a question, you give him the first answer you can lay your tongue to. Actually that "pound-and-a-half" crept back on when I wasn't looking—at a tea at the Empress Hotel the other day—all in line of duty. You know those Empress teas, girls?

However, I'm keeping one up my sleeve that's going to lay the boss by the heels. He doesn't know it yet but something else will be a bit lighter as a result of the Josephine Lowman experiment. Namely and to wit—the company exchequer!

You see, the goal I set myself has been achieved. In fact right this minute I am wearing that dress that was at least an inch too tight a short while ago. Which is all very fine, but alas! Not a single other item

THREE STILL IN RACE FOR CENTRE'S $50 NAME

Name for the new Victoria servicemen's centre will be announced next week.

Due to a large number of entries in the $50 contest to name the centre, judges have taken longer than planned deciding a winner.

The committee has whittled the names down to three, and plans to call in naval officials for the final judging.

The centre, which will be operated as an agency handling invitations to servicemen and arranging recreational activities for the men, has an initial budget of $8,000 and is sponsored by a group of Victoria business men.

Directors of the committee and judges for the naming contest are Brigadier F. N. Cabledy, W. Arnott, T. G. Denny, Gordon Grant, W. Gilmour, and Logan Mayhew.

Jaycee Parade Saturday Starts Biggest B.C. Fair

Ticket sales for the 1954 B.C. Products Fair which opens Monday at Memorial Arena should be greater this year than ever before, according to a spokesman for the Victoria Jaycees, sponsors of the show.

Advance sales are much greater than in previous years, and tickets are generally selling faster.

Main reason for the increased sales, said the spokesman, is the larger number of prizes being offered this year.

Top prize is a 1954 Pontiac two-tone four-door car, and prizes ranging from TV sets to refrigerators will be given away nightly.

Buddley Bros. Shows, Vancouver, will occupy the area north of the curling rink and between the rink and the arena. The carnival will feature a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, octopus, rocket-ride, children's rides, and games of chance. A highlight of the midway will be a trained monkey show.

Visitors will not go hungry either. Hot-dog, hamburger, candy and pop stands will be open for business.

The Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a parade through downtown streets Saturday honoring the candidates for the "Miss B.C. Products Fair" title. Scheduled for 2 p.m., the procession will travel from the provincial government parking lot to the Memorial Arena. Bands, clowns and Little League baseball players will participate.

Canadian Communist Leader, John Navis, Dies at Sea

MONTREAL (CP) — John Navizowsky, 66, known in Winnipeg and Toronto as a Communist leader, died at sea on Thursday aboard the Montreal-bound Empress of France, Canadian Pacific Steamships said today.

A terse message from the master of the CPS liner, due here Saturday from Liverpool, gave few details beyond saying the man died following a heart attack.

Navizowsky, also known as John Navis, was said to have had a hand in most major Communist activities in Winnipeg and Toronto. An unsuccessful candidate for a seat in the House of Commons and for a Winnipeg municipal post, he also turned out several Ukrainian publications which were banned during the war.

He was born in the western Ukraine in 1888 where he taught school before coming to the United States in 1908 and Canada three years later.

An active member of the Social Democratic party of Canada and of the Workers' Party of Canada when it was organized, he joined the then-banned Communist party of Canada in 1922.

LIVED IN WINNIPEG He was also organizer and leading member of the Ukrainian Labor-Farmer Temple Association and member-founder of the Workers' Benevolent Association. He lived in Winnipeg for 32 years before leaving in 1948 for Toronto, where he became an official of the left-wing Ukrainian Canadian Association.

In 1930 and 1935 he ran as an unsuccessful left-wing candidate for a seat in the Commons for Selkirk constituency. In 1942, he was defeated in a bid for a Winnipeg aldermanic seat.

For many years he was manager of the Ukrainian Workers' Publishing Association which printed the first Ukrainian daily and The People's Gazette, both banned in the Second World War.

He was also interned during the Second World War, during which one of his sons served in the Canadian Army. His widow and two sons survive. They live in Toronto. The funeral will be held in Winnipeg May 8.

No Unusual Phenomenon In Glass Pox

Glass Company
Tests Blame
Stones, Gravel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Glass Co. said today its research laboratory has found "no unusual phenomenon" associated with damaged windshields shipped here from areas reporting an epidemic of rock-marked glass.

The company said its top research officials have completed examination of numerous damaged windshields flown here from widely scattered areas and "all marks on the various types of windshields had been caused by impact with gravel, cinders, limestone or similar materials."

Pittsburgh Plate, one of the country's largest producers of windshield safety glass, ordered mass tests after getting reports about auto glass suddenly cracking and becoming rock-marked.

Dr. Frank Cox, director of glass research for Pittsburgh Plate, said:

"By propelling stones, gravel and similar road materials against windshield glass in laboratory tests, we produced crush marks identical under microscopic examination to the marks found on the windshields shipped here."

Robert Hunt, Prospect Lake Road, paid $25 in Saanich police court Thursday for failing to have current license plates on his car.

Manslaughter Charge Laid In Deaths of Two Typists

LONDON (UP) — A father of two children was accused of manslaughter today in the "love drug" poisoning of two pretty typists in his office.

June Malins, 19-year-old bathing beauty, queen, and Betty Grant, 27, died after eating a confection called cocoanut ice served in the office of Arthur Ford, 44, office manager of a drug firm. The confection was found sprinkled with Cantharid acid—Spanish fly—a drug made of dried beetles and popularly regarded as a sexual stimulant.

Ford was charged formally only with the death of Miss Grant who was the first to die 15 hours after eating the cocoanut ice.

Ford also collapsed from eating the same confection Monday, but yesterday left the hospital where his wife sat by his bedside during his recovery.

Detectives met him and brought him weeping to the police station where he remained overnight and was charged this morning with manslaughter.

HON. ROBERT SOMMERS

Sommers Urged To Take Action On Flood Threat

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Lands Minister Robert Sommers held a second meeting on unemployment with Trail civic officials Thursday, with a delegation from the recently-formed Trail and district unemployed workers attending the session.

The union presented a brief terming the unemployment situation in Trail and district "an immediate crisis," and asking for public works projects to alleviate conditions.

Among the projects sought is a river retaining wall in downtown Trail, which the union said is needed to prevent damage from the "almost certain" flood by the Columbia River this year.

INVESTIGATING

Mr. Sommers assured the delegation that the government has been investigating the unemployment situation, and he indicated the public works program planned by the government would do much to help matters. Most of the projects included in the program, however, will not get fully under way for some time.

The minister also stated he will meet with Trail city council next week to discuss where responsibility for the unemployed lies.

Dr. Purdy Succeeds Ivor W. Neil In BCE Bus Job

Dr. Harry L. Purdy today was named vice-president in charge of B.C. Electric's transportation division on the mainland. It was announced by BCE president A. E. Grauer.

Dr. Purdy, son of a pioneer Vancouver family, now heads two major company divisions. He also is in charge of the gas division.

Mr. Grauer also said the board of directors had received with "real regret" the resignation of Ivor W. Neil, general manager of transportation, who served the BCE for three decades.

Mr. Neil rose from the position of bus driver to the largest "free wheeling" transportation job west of Ontario. He is one of the most widely known men in the public transportation industry in Canada.

City Tax Budget Pared By 7 Hours of Slashing

Calculations Foreshadow Pay Decision Reversal

A slight reduction in the tax rate may be seen in Victoria this year.

City Council sat for more than seven hours Thursday, considering its provisional budget of $7,080,494, which, aldermen were told, would need a 56½-mill tax rate to support it.

Determined to cut back to the 56 rate which applied last year, council dealt first with parks and public works, and lopped off a total of $81,294, almost equal to a mill and a half.

Because of council's earlier decision to reject conciliation board awards concerning inside and outside workers, the budget makes no provision for any increase to these employees.

At the same time, in his explanation of the budget, city comptroller Dennis A. Young

$80,000 Lopped From Works, Parks

The public works budget was cut $41,595 while contemplated parks expenditures were reduced by $39,699.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, chairman of the committee which oversees both departments, complained frequently that the council was being over-zealous in its cutting.

"It's false economy," he protested. "Parks and public works take the brunt of the whole thing. You should remember what you put off today, you've got to do tomorrow."

Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood, who pushed through most of the reductions, said public works was about the only place cuts could be made. He suggested council

Seawall Out; Streets, Drains Cut

Council turned down a proposal that $7,000 be spent this year as a start on a seawall at Holland Point. Mr. Warren recommended the seawall to prevent erosion of the bank, presently slipping away at the rate of a foot a year. The mayor said the bank could slip away for 20 years and not hurt.

"It would turn into sand and be much better," he said. The mayor defended a sum of $1,500 earmarked for "additional tree care in Beacon Hill Park," and urged the money be spent only on the oaks.

Council chopped $30,480 from the public works new street construction program, and took $9,115 off a storm drain project at the west end of Finlayson Street.

The budget showed a 1953 surplus of $298,185.35.

City Workers Hold Back on Strike Threat

Outside civic workers are determined to press their case for a wage increase but plan no hasty action.

At a special meeting Thursday night of the Civic Employees' Protective Association, those within the organization known to favor strike action were over-ridden by others who advocated a go-slow strategy.

The meeting as a whole went on record as willing to accept the compromise handed down earlier in the month by a conciliation board. This is for a 3 per cent general wage increase and half the cost of MSA coverage.

City council has rejected this award but has not served formal notification on the union.

COUNCIL ADVISED

The union notified the council of its decision in a letter sent to City Hall today.

Next step, if council does not reconsider its stand, is for the union to apply to the government for a strike vote.

Inside workers, who also were denied a wage increase, are also on record as willing to accept 3 per cent and half MSA, but have taken no action since the council decision.

Earl of Moray's Twin Sons to Study at UBC

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (CP)—The twin sons of the Earl of Moray, Charles and James Stuart, sailed today for Canada to make their living in "the country most like Scotland."

The 21-year-old identical twins, descended from Scottish kings, said they probably will settle in British Columbia and take degrees at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver.

After that, it all depends. "We shall have a good try at making a go of things anyway," said James, who said his brother Charles had talked him into Canada as a future home.

The Witch Doctors

MR. LUCIEN MAYNARD, attorney-general of Alberta, has revealed a great discovery to the banking committee of the Canadian Parliament. To cure all the economic ills of the nation he proposes a simple remedy—let the national Government print hundreds of millions of new dollars. And this, says Mr. Maynard, can be done quite simply. The Government has only to borrow without interest from the central Bank of Canada, according to the techniques of Social Credit.

Mr. Maynard's new idea is only about two thousand years old. It may have been discovered before then in the civilizations of Asia Minor but at least we know that the Romans had mastered it. They had not learned, of course, the miracles of modern banking but they diluted the metal in their coinage. We can accomplish the same result now—days without so much trouble. Any national government can create unlimited supplies of money merely by writing figures in the ledger of its central bank.

That precisely is what all governments did during the last war. The extra money thus quietly created when nobody was looking emerged immediately after the war to bid up prices and launch us on an inflation which destroyed half the value of all fixed savings.

What Mr. Maynard is proposing under a new name is simply the age-old remedy of inflation with some fancy trimmings taken from Lord Keynes and Major Douglas—as if some African witch doctor were to mix with his incantations a few irrelevant quotes from a medical journal. The effect on the patient is always the same.

In Canada's case the Social Credit solution is particularly interesting. Mr. Maynard says that the consumers of Canadian goods need more purchasing power. He forgets that a large part of all Canadian goods are not consumed by Canadians but by foreigners. Our foodstuffs, our forest products, our metals and a thousand other things are sold and must be sold abroad if they are to be sold at all. They cannot possibly be consumed here.

How, to take a local example, could we consume, even if we were all paper millionaires bursting with National Dividends, the output of our British Columbia mines, forests, sawmills and pulp mills? Or how could the prairie stomach absorb half a billion bushels more wheat?

But by no means whatsoever can the Government of Canada stimulate the purchasing power of the foreign importers who buy our goods. On the other hand, Social Credit could quickly ruin our foreign trade by inflating our currency and hence our selling prices to the point where we could not sell in the world market at all. Social Credit by its nature is isolationist and protectionist but it cannot isolate this country from the world or protect us from the world market.

The banking committee of Parliament, not being composed of financial lunatics, will not agree with Mr. Maynard. The Government which, for all its mistakes, has given this country an era of progress unparalleled in any part of the world, will not pull the easy plug of unlimited bank credit.

British Columbians should note, however, that the Alberta Government, which is proposing this gigantic folly, is the partner and mentor of the British Columbia Government, elected in the first place by the political organizers from Edmonton. The British Columbia Government has announced repeatedly that it is part of a national movement to install Social Credit and witch doctors like Mr. Maynard in Ottawa. Is it too late to hope that Mr. Bennett, a businessman who knows that money has no value apart from goods, will repudiate this nonsense, that perhaps Mr. Bonner, now in the east, will take time off to visit the banking committee and assure it that British Columbia wants no part in a conspiracy of crude inflation?

The 'Central Issue'

IN STATING THAT "THE CENTRAL issue in Indo-China is not communism so much as independence," the Ottawa Citizen is taking a very limited view of the struggle of that country.

Granted that the desire of some Indo-Chinese for independence from France touched off the initial unrest. Granted further, as the Citizen points out, that the communists "were able to seize the initiative in the nationalist cause." But to see the present struggle as merely an intensification of that original movement is to gloss over much of the history of the past two years.

The Indo-Chinese war is merely the battle of colonialists to leave the French empire, why is it necessary for Red China, Soviet Russia, the United States, Britain and a dozen other countries to meet to try to settle the problem? The fact is that the Indo-Chinese colonial fight became merely the stage on which another act of the world drama was to be played. The "colonial war" became the focal point of a much greater war—the basic conflict between communism and the free world.

Still Aiding the Libraries

BRITISH COLUMBIA LIBRARY patrons should benefit from the Provincial Government's reappointment of Miss Margaret Clay to the B.C. Public Library Commission. The Provincial Government is fortunate to find in Miss Clay a highly competent person prepared to continue the voluntary service she gave the commission in other years.

The former chief librarian at the Victoria Institution has a wealth of experience and knowledge in the particular field in which she enjoyed such an outstanding career. Her advisory services should be of continuing value to the commission.

The appointment is one of a number of recent library moves of interest to the community.

Mr. John Lort has assumed the senior position at the Victoria Public Library, following a period of turbulence from which that institution received no benefit. A man of unquestioned ability, he will face the task of re-establishing the harmony so important in the conduct of its affairs and so vital in maintaining its high standard. He succeeds Miss Thessa Pollock, whose work has been a very satisfactory contribution to the life of Victoria.

In another change a few weeks ago Miss Marjorie Holmes retired from the post of assistant Provincial Librarian. Her departure brought to a close a long career of public service widely recognized by patrons. It is a matter of satisfaction that so able a successor as Mrs. Christine Fox was available to take the post. Here, as in a number of appointments since it came to power, the present administration has shown excellent judgment.

Downward Paths of Glory

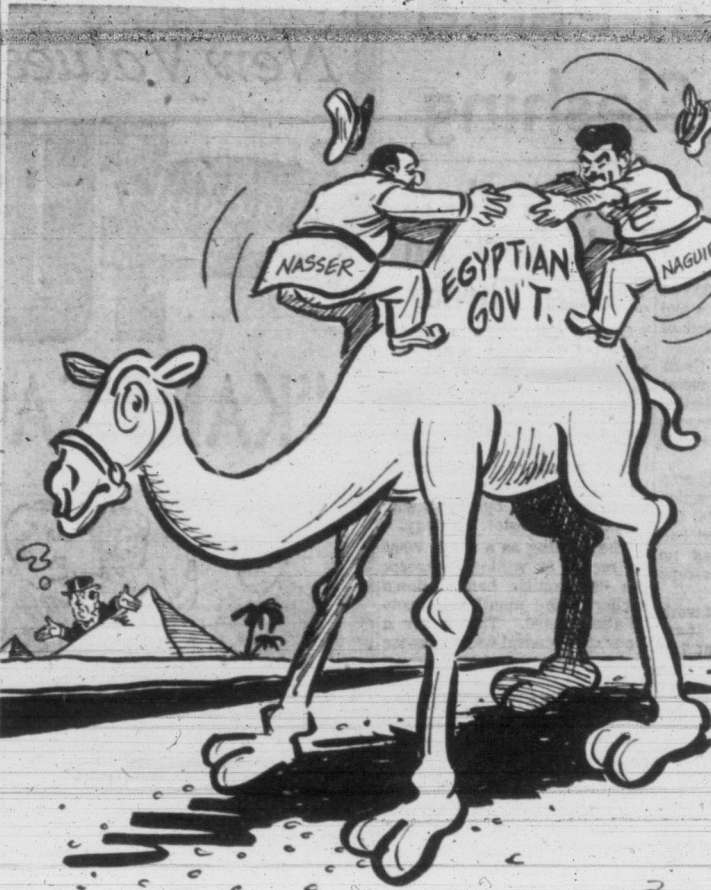

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR Benito Mussolini reportedly held in Italy on Wednesday recall once again the ephemeral nature of the glory sought by dictators.

It is nine years since Il Duce was slain and hung by the heels from the beams of a Milan gas station. In that time a whole generation has grown from the threshold of the teens to voting age—a generation which in its thinking years has never known Mussolini as a living figure. For the great majority of these new citizens he is merely a name in the history books—one among many names and not very famous at that. Along with Adolf Hitler, he has gone down the corridors of time and soon, for most people, his name will have to be mentioned with an explanatory word as to who he was.

So die the dreams of empire, of the regime that was to last "a thousand years." So die they indeed, but their death seems not to deter still later aspirants to transient fame and its subsequent obscurity.

Hard to Stay on the Hump

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

A PAL of mine was being shown round Hobart, in Tasmania, the other day. My friend was brought up in Vancouver, and he liked Hobart very much because it reminded him of the Vancouver he used to know.

He said that he had been to know progress and size ruined the place. Hobart has about 100,000 people, which means you can know most of the citizens of the sort to attract you and to be attracted by you. It also means you can still get into the country very easily, and it has the same sea and the same

4,000-foot hills close at hand. It has the same kindly climate as Vancouver, too, or perhaps a bit better—more like Oregon, perhaps. Of course, Vancouver's climate hasn't changed, in spite of progress. At least its boosters say not, though I have my doubts. Its air is certainly a lot drier than it was when I first saw it in 1914.

WELL, the chap who was showing my friend round Hobart was the grandfather of a man who was Superintendent of Missions of the Methodist Church in Australia and Polynesia, along about 1850. And in the courtyard of the Methodist Church in Hobart there stands a monument to this old bloke, who doubtless explained to many a Polynesian just why it improves your soul to wear a shirt, even if wearing a damp shirt can kill a Polynesian with pneumonia. And on the monument is inscribed: "His last words were 'Missionaries, Missionaries, Missionaries!'"

"Now, isn't that wonderful?" said the great-grandson in a dreamy voice. "Oh, I don't know," said the great-grandson's wife. "It all depends on his tone of voice, doesn't it?"

CLICKETY-CLICK

A LITTLE boy in Grade Three was telling me he is now studying Comets. I asked if he meant the Comet aircraft, or those whizzing stars that need a haircut. He said he meant neither. He meant Comets that you write with. In other words, commas. "You know," he said, "when a story goes like this: George said comet 66 hello comet Sam period 66 backwards." It took me something more than half a tick to realize that 66 and 66 backwards are meant to be quotation marks, otherwise known as inverted commas, or comets.

CANADIANS ALL

ONCE in a while I hear a very polite and muffled complaint from England, about the number of English heroes in Hollywood movies who are alleged to be Canadians. There are two reasons for this great supply of Canadian heroes, of course. One is that American audiences will accept several Canadian heroes in a row, when they might tire of English ones. But the main reason is that this little fiction enables an American actor to play the role without having to explain his accent. Well, as a result, the Royal Navy and the British Army and the Royal Air Force are now packed solid with celluloid Canadians. This doesn't mean that real Canadians didn't join those forces, or failed to acquire themselves well. It just means that if you know the original story, or your history of the Second World War, you are sometimes astonished by the ubiquity of these Canucks. It is a little embarrassing.

I'M glad the fashion hasn't spread, as yet, to older dramas. It will be distinctly odd when Henry V. announces before Agincourt that he's a Canadian. Or Macbeth says that Macbeth can't hurt him, because he was born in Nova Scotia. I'm happy to say that it is going to be extremely tough, if not impossible, to decide which army to grace with the Canadians in "Antony and Cleopatra." Shall we play the Canadians on Caesar's side, because they're the winners? Or on Antony's side, because he's the hero? That should stump even Hollywood, if only for a while.

MINE HOST

I WAS standing in a wine-merchant's shop the other day. It is really called a Liquor Store, but this is a phrase too strong for my delicate palate. I stood there, waiting for my turn to be served by about three men. . . . the more they split the work up among several men, the longer you have to wait. And this not only makes for full employment, but for temperance, patience, and heaven knows what. As I stood there, I searched the faces of the men on the other side of the counter. Not one of them looked very much like the jolly host in charge of a jolly cellar. Or even like a fatherly wine-merchant about to offer us sage and enthusiastic counsel. In fact, they all looked damned cross.

I WENT up to the crosscase of them, and began to sing some lines by the late Hilaire Belloc:

My jolly fat host with your face all a-grin,
Come, open the door to us, let us come in.
A score of stout fellows who think it no sin
If they toast till they're hoarse, and they drink till they spin,
Hoofed it again,
Rain or no rain,
To crack your old jokes, and your bottle to drain.

I was about to sing him some more, when he observed he was not my jolly fat host at all. I asked him why not, and he said "Because if I was jolly, or even if I was fat, people would think I had been drinking." Well, well, Banish fat Jack, and banish all the world.

LOOKING FOR A PEN PAL

I write to inquire if you could obtain for me a pen friend as I am interested in your country and its people and I realize I can find out more about the same by corresponding with people there.

I am Scottish, aged 19 and my hobbies are art, record collecting, travel and swimming.

I hope that at least one of your readers will perhaps write to me, and I will reply to however many.

I hope you will be able to do this for me, if so I will be extremely grateful.

CUT IT FINER, AUDREY

You say "Audrey tightens belt," and she writes of this "Spartan" diet. How much food does she normally eat? The menu sound ample. I am an active man. My average-day menu: breakfast, none; midday, meat, one or two vegetables, stewed fruit, no bread; supper, one egg, cheese, one slice whole wheat bread, butter, stewed fruit, one glass skim milk, and am always 10 pounds overweight.

UNCHARITABLE

I hope you will publish this letter. Monday evening I was walking along Toronto Street. At a top window sat a boy, about 11 years old, at the gate of his home were five boys and two girls, calling him "Old Smeady." One boy called up to him, "If we had a machine-gun, Smeady, we would shoot you. You have no right to be in Canada, Smeady."

Sir, I ask you, is this the kind of treatment given to other emigrant children to Canada? If so, I think it time teachers in schools throughout Canada should teach their children more manners and how to be kind.

ORIGINS

When Mrs. Bastin, April 19, contradicted the Encyclopaedia Britannica saying that Adam was "first of the Jews" she is perfectly right. The Encyclopaedia's statement is ridiculous in the extreme.

It was not until a remnant of the Tribe of Judah, numbering slightly less than 50,000, returned to Jerusalem about 536 B.C. that the term "Jew" was coined, according to Josephus (37-95 A.D.), most illustrious Jewish historian, who says: "That (Jew) is the name they were called by from the day they came up from Babylon, which is taken from the Tribe of Judah which came first to these places."

The Two Revolutions

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

A FEW days ago I came across the translation of three articles written for the Egyptian weekly, "Akher Sa'a" by the chief organizer of the Egyptian revolution, Col. Gamel Abdul Nasser. He wrote them last summer for publication on the first anniversary of the uprising by the Revolutionary Council of Army Officers which occurred July 23, 1952. They forced King Farouk to abdicate three days later and in June of last year they abolished the monarchy. They are the ruling power in Egypt.

What Col. Nasser had to say about the ordeal of the Egyptian revolution seems to me exceptionally interesting and significant for an understanding of the epochal situation in Asia and in Africa—of which at the present time Indo-China is the focal point of danger and of our anxiety.

This was the insight he reached: "We are going through two revolutions, not merely one. Every people on earth goes through two revolutions, a political revolution by which it wrests the right to govern itself from the hand of tyranny or from the army stationed upon its soil against its will; and a social revolution involving the conflict of the classes and which settles down when justice is secured to the inhabitants of the united nation."

"Peoples preceding us on the path of human progress have passed through two revolutions, but they have not had to face both at once; for us, the terrible experience through which our people is going is that we are having both revolutions at once."

There is in this moving passage—remembering who Col. Nasser is—a deep claim on the understanding of the Western peoples.

MANIFESTLY TRUE

The formula of the two revolutions is, granting that it is a simplification, manifestly true not only of Egypt, but, indeed of many other countries in that great semi-circle from, let us say, Korea to North Africa.

Why, we must ask ourselves, do these countries have to pass through at the same time these two revolutions, the one for independence and self-government and the other for what we may call, in the terms of our own Western history, the dismantling of the feudal order? Why do they first have to learn to govern themselves and then later on undertake their social reforms?

Col. Nasser does not answer that question explicitly. But the answer is, I think, implied in what he wrote.

In Egypt, and in many—though not in all—the countries emerging from imperial domination, the native feudal magnates and their retainers have been protected by and have been the beneficiaries of the foreign ruling power. National and thence both they and the country gained that appellation" (Antiq. xi.v.7).

The term "Jew" is derived from the Hebrew Yehudim, meaning a remnant of Judah. Nehemiah and Ezra give details of the returning trek from captivity in Babylon.

The Jews were first mentioned in the Bible in 2nd Kings, Chapter 16, verse 6.

BEFORE CAESAR

In my reading today I came across a small item, which may interest some, may I pass it on? It is that much of the tin and silver, used in building King Solomon's Temple (1015-975, B.C.) came from Britain and the wonderful smelting works which were still being used in 962 B.C. were then described by Homer. It reminded me of another small item which I read some years ago, i.e. that during the submarine war around Britain, the authorities were obliged to order the re-opening of the long disused tin mines in Cornwall, and that discarded ancient mining tools were found bearing the name of Joseph of Arimathea. I would like to see that verified, but cannot now remember where I read it.

Also I do not think foreigners in those days would have had such language difficulties as one of your correspondents seems to think. Britain could boast in B.C. years of at least 30 universities, or seats of learning and about 60,000 students. Caesar spoke of "the learned Druids" and also informs us that youth from the continent were sent to Britain to finish their education—quite a record for "savages."

Also as early as 1100 B.C. Brutus of Troy landed at Kingston (from a boat strange to say) later he founded the city of Caer Troian (New Troy) afterward called Ludd-in (city of Lud), now London.

"London—or Rome? The Eternal City?"

NO CONNECTION

May I point out an erroneous impression which has arisen regarding a suggestion recently advanced by Mr. Lewis J. Clark and myself. We were attempting to explain the nature and origin of the tiny yellow pellets which have been falling on Victoria and other places.

Many persons who read or heard in the Victoria Daily Times of April 19, have somehow come to believe that we were explaining the windshield damage which has been in the news lately. This was definitely not the case.

We have never offered any suggestion as to the cause of the windshield damage. The pellets, which we thought might be Radiolarian (not to be confused with radioactive) skeletons blown out of the ocean by the H-bomb, have been observed to remain on automobile safety glass and house glass for a week without causing any damage whatsoever. This bears out our original denial that there was any connection between the pellets and the windshield damage.

'One on Every Corner'

BACK IN 1911 my friend Tommy was skinnin' horses here. "Skinnin' horses," I'm told, means driving a team.

Tommy likes to look back on those days and the drinking practices followed then. "You might feel a little rocky as you walked to work, so you'd turn into the Palace. You'd slap a dime down on the bar and the barkeep would hand it back to you with a bottle and a glass. The first one was on the house. Then you'd push your dime forward to pay for the second and in half an hour the sun would be shining again. You wouldn't feel rocky."

"You got a 16-ounce schooner of beer for a nickel. There was a saloon on every corner and the stuff was so easy to get you didn't want it."

"I believe the biggest mistake they ever made was taking the saloons away. There must have been 40 of them. The city lost the license fees and the men lost something, too."

"If they could bring the bars back, I think they'd solve the liquor problem. You had to stand up to drink. You got tired of standing, so you took a walk."

Tommy, who's a respected businessman with a good reputation for fair dealing—and has been for a long time—doesn't do any drinking today. But memory paints for him a friendly picture of the days when he was skinnin' horses.

Different View

Another old friend of mine who used to tend bar early in the century, doesn't see it quite the same way. He finds it a little difficult to describe 1900-1910 drinking in terms understood today.

"The discipline of drinking—the whole attitude to it—was different then. There was never any big money in a saloon. Most of them were owner-operated and provided a percentage profit."

"There were two styles, one where you got five-cent beer and 10-cent whisky, and the other where drinks were two for a quarter, and that covered about everything."

"You poured your own drink from a bottle into a small glass and the average was maybe a little under two ounces. If you were pretty well known and you needed a slightly stiffer one, that was okay, too."

"Still, if I saw as much now as we did then of the effects of drinking, I guess we'd be pretty shocked, maybe a little horrified."

YOUR HEALTH

The price wasn't the regulating factor. A man could usually afford to buy more than he could carry. It wasn't unusual for a businessman to take a few too many and stagger a little when he went out onto the street.

Never Called Drunk

"You watched what you said about instances like that. You didn't mention the fact that anybody was getting drunk or had been drunk. If you were his friend, you might kid him a little later about packing a little too much. But if you could get home under your own power, and avoid fighting or being abusive, you weren't called drunk."

"One thing you didn't do. You didn't buy a bottle and take it home to drink alone. If you did that you were in bad shape. Still, a lot of them used to drink themselves out of the picture. They'd sort of lose standing in the better bars and get down to the waterfront. It was rough there."

"You found a lot of people who went that way dying of old age while they were pretty young—maybe 28, 30 or 32."

My friend who used to tend bar doesn't expect to see anything like that as a result of the new liquor law.

"The price is going to regulate it quite a lot," he figures. "The business isn't going to be as big as quite a few people think. I'd guess 90 per cent of it will be local, maybe 10 per cent tourist."

"And I think the money will be in the beer parlors—public houses, you call them. More people have a dime to spend than six-bits. But even the beer parlors have had their best time."

Apart from mixed drinking, my friend thinks the liquor habits of youth in recent years have been better than those of the saloon days. He hasn't seen as many youngsters under the weather as he used to.

As for the ladies, they didn't go into saloons. They seldom took a drink in public, though they might have one at one of the older eating houses, the New England or Levi's, when they were escorted to dinner.

So there you have a couple of opinions about the "good old days" from two old-timers who don't agree.

You'll keep hearing stories about the Brown Jug, the Palace, the White Horse, Delmonico's and a couple of dozen other saloons and entertainment centres.

When you do remember the differences of view the old-timers held. Maybe it will help you to reconcile yourself to the divergent outlooks that will arise with the new outlets.

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Infant Food Allergy

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine-Mayo Foundation.

I have always known that much severe food allergy begins in infancy, but I never realized how much of it there now is until, recently, I read an article by Dr. Irving H. Moore, of Minneapolis. He reviewed 1,000 consecutive case records of infants seen in his practice, and found that 387 of these children were already allergic; most often to cow's milk and next often to wheat, orange juice, vitamins and eggs. This, of course, does not mean that food allergy is that common among the populace as a whole because these 1,000 children were found in a doctor's office where most of them had been brought because of some illness. But, still, the incidence of food allergy found is alarming. Something ought to be done to prevent it.

Today, many physicians are advising mothers not to bother to nurse their baby, even for the first month or two. I am afraid I will always be so old-fashioned that I will be unable to accept this practice as logical or sane. It distresses me.

Of course, a bottle must be given in those many cases in which the mother hasn't enough milk for her baby; but, still, if I were a pediatrician, I would be spending much of my time trying to find out why, within one or two generations, so many women have lost the ability their grandmothers had to nurse a baby. I would hate to capitulate so easily, and to put all babies on a bottle.

Surely, on the average, the modern woman must be better fed than her grandmother was, and often she is stronger and much more athletic; she often is an out-of-doors girl. Why, then, when she has a baby should not her breasts give more milk rather than less than her grandmother's gave?

We know that there is a hormone in the pituitary gland that presides over this function, and I hope that some day it can be made available commercially so that all new mothers who haven't enough milk can have their breast glands so stimulated that they can nurse their baby. As yet, only tiny amounts of the substance are available for research purposes.

When an adult goes perhaps to a foreign land and eats some foods new to him he is not likely to become allergic to them because the protective mechanisms in the wall of his stomach and bowel are fully developed and able to protect him. If he were to give these foods to his year-old baby, the child might also escape becoming sensitized, but if he were to give large amounts of the foods to his month-old or week-old baby, disaster might follow because, at that age, the infant's protective devices would not as yet be well developed.

There is another way in which food allergy can easily be produced in a baby and that is by going around or circumventing the protective devices in the digestive tract. All one has to do is to give the child some orange juice with a spoon, so rapidly that some of it bubbles down into the child's lungs. I was just reading an article in which the author showed that one can easily sensitize animals in this way, and I have seen it happen quickly in infants.

Someone, perhaps, is asking, "But why then give orange juice to a tiny baby?" Surely the Good Lord never intended that. All over the world and even in the Arctic Circle one finds chubby, healthy babies who never had a drop of orange juice. If they grow so well without it, why should ours be having it forced upon them?

MILK HAS VITAMIN C

So far as my memory goes, it all started many years ago when some one, with the poor analytic methods in those days, reported that milk did not contain vitamin C, such as is found in citrus fruits. That is why the dosing with orange juice started. Then, I remembered that two investigators showed that a baby is born with enough vitamin C stored in his liver to keep him healthy during the first year. But this was not the only evidence to show that the Great Designer had not slipped up and forgotten something essential to the growth of infants.

Here on my desk beside me is a report from the greatly respected National Research Council of Great Britain showing what we all might have guessed, and that is that milk contains enough vitamin C for babies. Now that this has been established, perhaps the ablest pediatricians will stop giving orange juice to infants.

New Directors Named By Children's Service

175 Attend Annual Meeting of Aid Society; Dr. Brock Chisholm Speaks on Home Training

Eight directors were returned by acclamation to the board of the Victoria Family and Children's Service Thursday night, and three new directors were named.

The annual meeting at Oak Bay Junior High School was attended by about 175 persons, who heard the former director-general of World Health Organization, Dr. Brock Chisholm, speak on the home training of modern children.

Returned to the 20-man board were: President, G. C. Parrott; first vice-president, A. deB. McPhillips; vice-president and treasurer, R. R. Wilde; directors, J. Alan Baker, Harry R. Bleasdale, Miss Elizabeth Forbes, Col. R. B. Longridge, Dr. E. L. McEwen.

New members of the board are Lorne Green, W. D. Osborn and Richard R. Smeale.

The board elects 10 members each year but a resignation brought the number to 11 in 1954.

Reports to the members included an appeal by the president for continued support of the Community Chest, which provides one-third of the $154,991 budget.

HOW MONEY SPENT

In 1953 25.5 per cent of the budget was spent in supporting non-wards (children placed with the service by relatives for care in foster homes). Maintenance of wards (children committed to FCS by court order) cost 23.5 per cent.

Casework services for wards cost 10.5 per cent; family and individual casework took 18.1 per cent; transportation, 2.5; rent and office expense, 5.5; financial help, 3.5; juvenile court services 2.0, and casework service for non-wards, 11.6.

Help was given last year to 140 unmarried mothers, 466

Speed Charge Against Priest Dismissed

A charge of speeding laid against a priest who appeared in Saanich police court Thursday was dismissed by Magistrate H. C. Hall on the statement of the accused that he hadn't driven over 30.

"It is very difficult for me to believe that a priest in holy orders would perjure himself," said the magistrate in dismissing a charge against Rev. Geoffrey Penfold, 3905 Quadra.

But Magistrate Hall admitted he was perplexed by "a direct contradiction of two men under oath," the churchman and a constable.

CONSTABLE'S STORY

Constable Charles Truett testified that he had paced Rev. Penfold going south on Douglas at 45 miles per hour. He said that when he stopped the vehicle the priest had remarked that he thought the speed limit was 40 in that area.

Sean Howard, representing the accused, brought out the fact that Constable Truett had only served two months on the force and referred to "discrepancies" in the ticket he had given the priest.

He said it had the wrong date and the time wrong by 15 minutes. Magistrate Hall said these were hardly discrepancies.

The magistrate cut short the thanks of Rev. Penfold when he dismissed the charge, on the basis of reasonable doubt.

"Don't thank me... I just do that as a duty."

OLD DYERS

Among the oldest of dyeing processes known is that used in French West Africa. Indigo leaves, charcoal and water are placed in a 30-foot pit. The cloth to be dyed is then placed in the solution and left from one to 10 days.

SYNOPSIS—Record minimum temperatures for April 30 were reported Thursday night from most sectors of the province. Vancouver airport with a low of 31 degrees recorded its lowest temperature since observations were begun nearly 20 years ago. Nanaimo airport reported the lowest coastal temperature with a minimum of 26 degrees. In the interior there were hard frosts in all districts. In the southern Okanagan Peninsula had a low of 24 degrees while at Kamloops the minimum temperature was 17. Milder Pacific air is gradually replacing the cold air covering the coast and there will be a gradual increase in temperatures in this sector of the province Saturday.
Historians believe cotton originated in India, perhaps about 3,000 B.C.

Mrs. Alice James Dead, Aged 97; Here Since 1901

A well-known Esquimalt resident, Mrs. Alice James, 97, died Thursday at Jubilee Hospital.

Mrs. James had lived in Victoria and Esquimalt since 1901 and was a pioneer member of St. Paul's Anglican Church and the Esquimalt Chapter No. 41, O.E.S.

Born in Newport, Isle of Wight, England, Mrs. James is survived by a sister, Mrs. A. D. Ferris, 622 Hood Street, with whom she lived; two brothers, George C. Etheridge of California, and William J. of Chilliwack; one step-daughter, Mrs. J. Bennett of Victoria; six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be announced by Haywards Chapel.

RAVEN REMINDER

A raven is kept at Merseburg, castle, near Halle, Germany, as a reminder of a grave injustice. Many years ago a servant was executed for the theft of a valuable ring belonging to the Bishop Thilo of Trotha. The ring, actually had been stolen by a raven. When one bird dies another is placed in its stead immediately.

CBC Tenders Apology For Swearing on Network

TORONTO (CP)—A burst of obscenity-startled listeners to the CBC's Toronto radio station CBL Thursday night when an announcer "working under considerable strain" forgot to turn off his microphone during a program break.

The CBC said the obscenity originated in Toronto a few seconds before a tape recording of a western program was cut in. The announcer was not identified.

The incident happened at 5:30 p.m. PDT after the announcer had signed off the jazz program "Popular Artists in America" on the CBC's trans-Canada network.

Ira Dilworth, CBC director for Ontario, said in a statement to the press: "The incident which occurred on CBL this evening when an unfortunate phrase was heard on the air during a station break was a regrettable occurrence for which the CBC apologizes to its listeners. 'The words were uttered by a CBC employee who was under considerable strain at the time. The circumstances which made this incident possible are being investigated most carefully by the CBC.'"

FIRE SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

Forestry officials today reminded British Columbia campers the annual fire season in the forests opens officially Saturday, May 1, and is one month longer this year.

The season will extend to Oct. 31 instead of Sept. 30 as in previous years.

Reason for the extension made at the recent session of the Legislature—is consistently warm Septembers, particularly on Vancouver Island, which keep forests dry and sportsmen active.

ROBIN HOOD BIKE CONTEST WINNERS

Rotarians Hear Of Adjustments

"The penitentiary in New Westminster is looked upon today as one of the leading institutions of its kind in Canada," Warwick Angus told a weekly meeting of the Victoria Rotary Club Thursday.

Mr. Angus, one of the originators of special rehabilitation courses now in operation in the New Westminster penitentiary, discussed the problems of creating normally adjusted citizens from men serving time for crime.

He told Rotarians of courses in public speaking, human relationship and leadership, employed to instill confidence in the prisoners.

Mr. Angus explained that in spite of the useful trades taught the inmates of the institution, the attitude of the prisoners had to be changed.

"Otherwise," he said, "those men will use their trade training for the furtherance of crime."

Using one prisoner as an example, he pointed out the complete change that can take place with a prisoner. Having served almost 20 years in prison, a 45-year-old man, due to be released shortly, has written his life story, and intends to spend the next few years on a lecture tour of Canada, discussing the uselessness of crime with young people.

Mr. Angus expressed concern over the fact that the general public tended to drive an ex-convict back to crime by its attitude toward him.

NO OOMPH MAYBE, BUT—

Artist Says Victoria Folk World's Most Photogenic

A 36-year-old portrait artist who keeps his wife and 14 children by sketching movie stars and convention delegates thinks Victorians are the most photogenic people in the world.

Charles (call me Charlie) Pico set up shop in the Empress Hotel this week, and says he is going to stay as long as he can find customers.

Charlie, who has drawn President Eisenhower, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaiser and other notables, says "people are happy up here" and besides, he's a bit tired of the millionaires in his hometown of Palm Springs.

"They're an awful bunch. You have to 'con' them all the time," he says. "You know what that means, don't you?" Pico took "seven or eight" formal art lessons nine years ago, and since then has made a "good" living showing people what they look like through his eyes, and through the medium of pastels.

The lessons were given him by Jack Leighton, a prominent Canadian artist, and like his short-term teacher, Pico has an unusual technique. He starts his portraits at the eyes.

"That's the foundation of the whole picture," he explained. "It's just like building a house, only the eyes are the foundation." From there he works out, using quick thrusts and a bold hand.

Before discovering how easy it was to make money drawing, Pico spent a few years as a pipe-fitter, carpenter ("they handed me a pick and shovel"), farmhand, and junk peddler. Now he whips out a hand-drawn pastel or charcoal sketch in 15 or 20 minutes, and collects from $3 to $4 for his efforts. He spent last winter at the El Mirador Hotel in Palm Springs.

Two weeks ago he was drawing New York Life Insurance convention delegates in Arizona. He heard the firm was holding a convention here in Victoria, and arrived with the delegates.

"The big difference between Americans and you Canadians is the complexion," he said. "Canadians have better complexions, and they're a lot happier."

Pico boldly plunged into the always-present controversy on whether Canada or the U.S. has the better-looking girls. "Some of your women are very beautiful," he said, "but some are awful homely."

Then he really puts his foot into it with the statement that: "Canadian girls' legs are not as nice as our girls." He claims the reason is "not enough dancing schools."

Commons Hopes For Prorogation Middle of June

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has set mid-June as the target for prorogation of parliament, it was learned Thursday. The session opened last November 12.

Informants said the government is shooting at Friday, June 11, but that a more likely date would be Tuesday, June 15.

However, the session could spill over some days beyond those dates. It was understood that as yet no agreement has been reached among the various parliamentary parties on a prorogation date.

McCarthyism Political Obscenity

TORONTO (BUP)—Jennie Lee, Socialist Member of Parliament and wife of British Laborite Aneurin Bevan, set out to get a first-hand impression of Canadian and American ways today after calling McCarthyism "a primitive form of political obscenity."

Miss Lee, a self-styled "radical Socialist," whose husband leads the far left wing of the British Labor Party, planned to elaborate on what she thinks of McCarthyism in America and the political wars in Britain in speeches here, at Buffalo, N.Y., and at Washington. She makes her first speech May 3 at a Toronto district CCF party meeting. Miss Lee commented only briefly on politics in Britain, to which she plans to return by plane from New York May 7. She predicted an early return to power for the Labor Party and denied rumors of disunity within its ranks.

Soaring Power Demand Outstrips VI Hydro

Grauer Predicts Depletion in 10 Years; Sees BCE Cable, Gas as Island's Savior

The rate of increased electrical consumption on Vancouver Island spells the end to further Island hydro development within 10 years, A. E. Grauer, president, B.C. Power Corporation, said at Vancouver Thursday.

At the company's annual meeting he told shareholders that the recently announced submarine cable from the mainland to V.I., to be completed by 1956 at a $5,000,000 cost, would be particularly advantageous as the single wooden flume serving the Jordan River plant, near Victoria, was "potentially vulnerable."

Also, he said, the lower island generating system was subject to run-off characteristics of only one watershed, and in a critical water year there would be danger of energy shortage.

"With the end of its own hydro-electric resources so close, the ability of Vancouver Island to share in the several million horsepower potential that still remains for the lower mainland of B.C. means an indefinite staying off of the day when more expensive steam power must be used," he said.

CHANGE IN GAS

Mr. Grauer said the company was still interested in bringing natural gas to lower V.I., but the situation "was by no means clear at this stage."

He confirmed the company plans to abandon the present combination of water gas and liquid petroleum gas in Victoria in favor of liquid petroleum-air-gas of a higher BTU content. Conversion was expected to be complete by fall. (This was announced in the Times earlier.)

Financial effect would be to change the Victoria gas operation from a severe to a slight deficit, Mr. Grauer said.

"Should natural gas prove feasible for Victoria, expenditures made on the new system will reduce the outlay then necessary for natural gas," he said.

There was nothing in the rate of demand for electricity which would indicate a recession or even a tapering off in basic growth. Kilowatt hours sold increased 11.8 per cent in 1953 over 1952.

And the first three months this year showed no decrease in growth rate.

Mr. Grauer predicted there would be a distinct general business recovery during the latter half of 1954 from what had been termed a "rolling adjustment" period.

V.I. FRUIT ORGANIZATIONS MERGE AT KEATING MAY 5

The Vancouver Island Co-operative Fruit Exchange will merge next month with the larger Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, it was reported today by William McNally, VICFE president.

The merger will take place at a meeting to be held at the Keating Farmers' Institute on May 5, he said.

Mr. McNally said the Exchange which has been operating for the past 20 years, decided to merge with the association mainly because of its small membership. The organization has only 15 members compared with about 100 active members in the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, he added.

125 Photographers Coming for Parley

Varied Program for 3-Day Convention in City Next Week; New Trophy To Be Awarded

An estimated 125 delegates will attend the annual Professional Photographers' Association of B.C. convention in Victoria next week.

Convention committee chairman Ken McAllister said today that a complete program has been arranged for the convention, and that all professional photographers in B.C. will be welcomed.

Speakers at the three-day parley opening Sunday include Colin Graham, curator of the Victoria Arts Centre, Dr. Clifford Carl, of the provincial museum, Les Fox, managing editor of the Victoria Times, and writer Tom Taylor.

Clinics will be conducted by Helmuth Goetz, Victoria; Warner Williams and Art Jones of Vancouver, and other high-ranking photographers.

Delegates' wives will be entertained at the Totem Theatre Monday night, while the men will be taken on a tour of the aerial survey branch of the Legislative buildings, a Sunday night visit to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, and a visit to the Deep Cove studio of graphic artist David Anderson.

Members will vote on the best print to be hung at the B.C. Products Fair in Victoria from May 3 to May 8. The winning photographer will be awarded a new trophy, designed by sculptor and artist Jan Zach.

The trophy, a memorial to the first president of the association, R. J. Hughes, of Vancouver, is a symbolic form suggesting the optical aspect of photography.

It will become a perpetual award, with each annual winner receiving a miniature relief plaque.

Hutchison Tells Why Canucks Irked at U.S.

Friendly Myth and Genial Misunderstanding Marks Border Says Times Editor in Colliers

Billed as "a Canadian expert on inter-American affairs," Bruce Hutchison, editor of the Victoria Daily Times, tells in a four-page article in the current issue of Collier's Magazine "Why Canadians Are Peeved at the U.S."

One big, general reason, he says, in effect, is that most Americans don't know Canadians are peeved at them and that the causes therefore entirely escape those who do.

Addressing an audience counted in millions—Collier's total readership—Mr. Hutchison develops his argument from the proposition that every undefended mile of the long boundary between the U.S. and Canada is "shadowed by a mountain range of friendly myth and genial misunderstanding."

The article reviews two recent incidents, the questioning of Igor Gouzenko by two members of the U.S. Senate's Internal Security Subcommittee and Prime Minister St. Laurent's championship of the United States on his visit to India, and shows their effect on both sides of the boundary.

BENIGN IGNORANCE

Mr. Hutchison, after deploring what he calls each country's "benign ignorance" of the other, dips into history to remind his readers that from the American Revolution until after the Civil War, the border was not friendly or even stable and that while America, so far, has been able to ignore Canada (or at least to take it for granted) "only a century of peaceful experience could expunge the Canadian myth of the rapacious Yankee."

The article points up the one-sided economic relationship of the two countries—last year Canada ran a trade deficit of $767,000,000 with the U.S.—and wonders how long Canada will be able to stand it.

The author chides Canadians for being, in their current mood, "inexorably ungrateful to the U.S. which alone can defend their safety and existence." He earlier points out that in the coming era Canada will grow to a nation of 40,000,000 people and that for the first time the U.S. "will find a major state, probably more powerful than any now in Europe, on its flank."

Singh Balked At Penny ... Paid $250

Considered of driving while his abilities were impaired by alcohol, Jagat Singh Basi, 2565 Cook, was fined $250 or 12 days, in Saanich police court Thursday.

Police charged that Singh had been driving without lights and had narrowly missed a collision before he was stopped.

Police Doctor L. McNiven testified that Singh had been under the influence of alcohol and had quibbled when asked to take a sobriety test which involves picking a coin from the floor.

The doctor said he had placed a penny on the floor and Singh had balked.

"It's not fair and square. Put down four bits and I'll pick that up," he is alleged to have said.

The doctor settled for a quarter and reported that Singh "picked it up, fumbling with both hands."

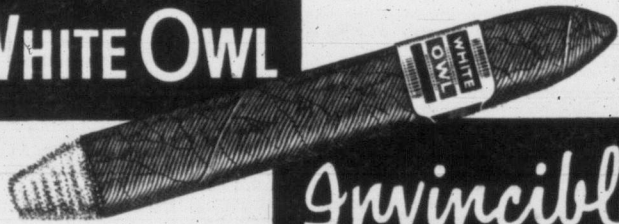

The accused admitted he had taken four drinks but stated that his condition had been due to lack of sleep.

It goes direct to the doctor and helps him make a diagnosis which may call for the administering of one of the new wonder drugs, made by Canada's leading pharmaceutical houses. Garbage Polluting Harewood Watershed

Chlorination Plant Found Ineffective; City Mains to Supply Indian Reserve

NANAIMO — Indiscriminate dumping of garbage along Nanaimo Lakes Road near the old army camp is considered by Harewood water district councillors to be the direct cause of serious pollution of the district water supply.

"Equipment used by the health department in checking the degree of pollution won't register high enough," said Rod Glen, chief councillor, at a meeting this week, "so keep boiling the water."

The chlorination plant presently in use was not effective because of the numerous leaks in the old water line, Mr. Glen said.

"There should be a Greater Nanaimo garbage district as well as a Greater Nanaimo Water Board," said one member of the Harewood group. Garbage above the water source — the old Canadian Collieries supply system — includes old clothing and "even an airplane engine," said one councillor.

Meanwhile, the old collieries line supplying No. 1 Indian Reserve, will be cut off next Saturday. More than 400 Indians will be affected, but the city has made arrangements with the Indian department to supply most of the reserve with water from city mains. For a time there may be some hardship imposed on individual Indian families.

COAL MINERS TAKE HOLIDAY FOR CUMBERLAND

NANAIMO — Workers' Day, May 3, celebrated in Nanaimo for many years during the coal mining period, will be celebrated at Cumberland where bulk of the coal mining on the island is done by majority of the area's coal miners.

Mayor William Henderson has declared the day a civic holiday for the occasion.

During the day there will be labor speakers, sports, and Nanaimo Pipe Band will be in attendance. A dance will be held in the evening in Cumberland Recreation Hall.

Community Club Sole Sponsor Of Queen Contest

LANGFORD — May queen contest here this year will be a local affair with no commercial sponsors. It has been decided by Langford Community Club.

The contest will be open to students of grades 9, 10 and 11, who must have the consent of their parents to enter.

Three names will be drawn, and a vote will be taken, with the winner being named queen and the others princesses.

Mrs. A. P. Bayles will be in charge of the crowning ceremony and will be assisted by Mrs. G. T. Hatcher, Mrs. D. P. Gardner, Mrs. P. Hall and Mrs. V. Smith.

The Community Club announced it will enter a float in Victoria's May 24 parade.

Scouts, Guides Stage Show At Luxton

LUXTON — Scouts and Guides of this district combined efforts to stage a well-attended concert at Luxton Hall.

The girls presented a play "The Bus Depot," and a chorus of eight in costume sang sea chanteys and danced the sailor's hornpipe.

Mrs. A. Bouvier, Guide captain, directed a second group in two Indian legends, "The Thunderbird" and "Cadboro-saurus" complete with native dances and tom-toms.

Grace Hobbs performed a solo tap dance.

R. Muir, Scout leader, recited the "Magna Charta," and skits included a radio program and minstrel show, directed by A. Forbes.

Piano accompaniment selections were played by Marcel Bouvier, and accompanists were Mr. W. Allen and J. Fraser.

Special guests were Executive Commissioner Freeman King and Mrs. King; Mrs. W. E. Emmerton, guide commissioner; and Mrs. E. Gardner, district commissioner.

Pension Official To Spend Week In V.I. Centres

S. J. Mayzes, pensions advocate, will spend the week of May 10-14 on Vancouver Island to interview new applicants for pensions and to discuss questions of pension law, administration and the Pensions Act with pensioners.

He will be available for interviews according to the following schedule:

May 10 — Duncan UIC office, 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; Ladysmith-Canadian Legion Hall, 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.; Chemainus Canadian Legion Hall, 4 to 5 p.m.

May 11 — Nanaimo UIC office, 10 a.m. to noon; Parksville, home of R. C. Weld, 3 to 4 p.m.

May 12 — Port Alberni UIC office, 9 a.m. to noon; Qualicum Beach, home of J. Graham, 3 to 4 p.m.

May 13 — Courtenay UIC office, 9 a.m. to noon; store of G. B. Stephenson, Cumberland, 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.; Comox Canadian Legion Hall, 3 to 4 p.m.; Campbell River Canadian Legion Hall, 7 to 8 p.m.

Too Many Grilse Cost Anglers $15

NANAIMO — O. W. Nicholls, Victoria, and W. G. Beevor-Potts of Lantzville were fined $15 each and costs in police court here after pleading guilty to a charge of exceeding the limit of 10 grilse per person while fishing off Lantzville Saturday.

Charges were laid by officers of the fisheries department. Magistrate W. H. Jones said he was lenient with the fishermen because it was their first offense, but he warned them that such practice was not only poor sportsmanship but would not be condoned.

Retired Railway Foreman Dead

DUNCAN — Peter Alexander Deuchart, native of Scotland and resident of Canada for 47 years, died suddenly here Wednesday.

Prior to his retirement to Duncan he had been a CPR foreman for many years, and had lived at Hamiota, Man. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Foresters' lodges, and of the United Church.

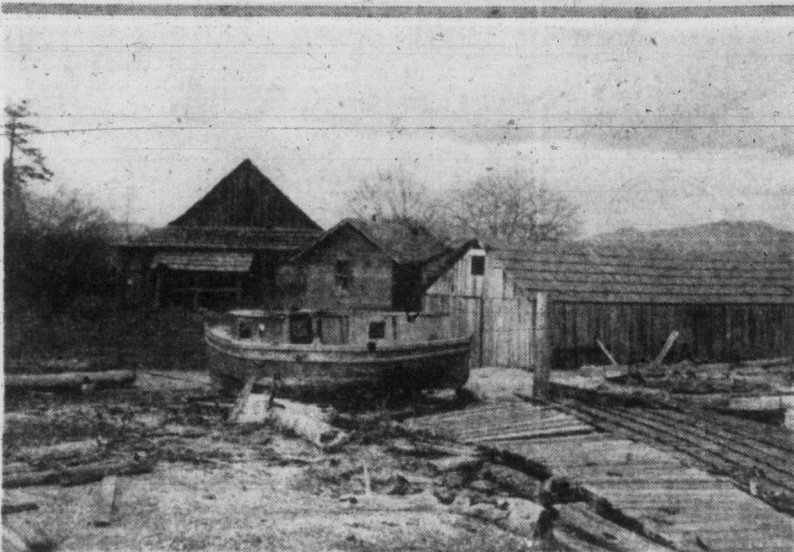

Surviving are his widow, two sons, and one daughter. Remains have been forwarded to Hamiota for burial.

Fire Death In Duncan Accidental

DUNCAN — Nine hours after Peter Eliason, 78, was burned to death Thursday in his cabin at the old Hillcrest mill, five miles from Duncan, a coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

The elderly man lost his life when fire broke out in the wooden cabin just after 4:30 a.m. His daughter, Mrs. Norah Erickson, said at the inquest that she had risen early and was looking out of a window and saw the fire at her father's home. She woke her husband, August, and her son, and they rushed over to the house but were unable to gain entrance.

Mr. Erickson related that his father-in-law rose early every morning and lighted a fire then went back to bed. He said that the fatal fire probably was started by a match being dropped near some firewood that was kept near the stove. Coroner A. E. Green conducted the inquest.

NANAIMO — Fund for the new health centre under construction was boosted another $1,000 this week by Kiwanis Club and B.C. Tubercular Association. The building will cost about $76,000 when completed.

60,000 New Babies Daily More Fearful Than H-Bomb

NANAIMO — Dr. Gordon M. Shrum, UBC, guest speaker at Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce installation dinner in Hotel Malaspina Thursday night, said "I am more alarmed at forces of nature than the hydrogen bomb."

The real problem facing mankind is to provide food to feed the 60,000 additional people coming into the world every 24 hours and "all of them are hungry," he said. "Apparently 80 per cent also are thirsty if one cares to take Victoria as an example," he added.

High School Boys See Shawnigan Woods Operation

CHEMAMUS — Nineteen Grade 9 boys from the Junior High School were taken on a day-long tour of the Shawnigan Lake division of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. logging operations this week.

On arrival at Deerholme, they were provided with hard hats before entering the woods, where they witnessed the various phases in logging and reforestation. Lunch was served in the woods.

Don Greer was installed as the chamber's new president with W. Farnsworth and R. Annett vice-presidents. Treasurer is E. L. Hodson. Installing officer was E. W. Arnott of Victoria.

Mayor George Muir said the Northwest Cruising Club, Seattle, had written asking for hotel accommodation during the international yacht races here in July. He pointed out that the international event brought trade as well as goodwill to most parts of the island.

"It certainly includes Victoria, that city which once was called the front door to the island but now it was the back door," he said. "Nanaimo has become the front door."

More than 100 guests attended the installation ceremonies and dinner.

Ottawa Will Assist Island Ferry Plan

New Landings Primary Need

GANGES — Hopes for the Crofton-Vesuvius Bay ferry service rose Thursday night with the announcement in Commons by Public Works Minister Robert Winters that Ottawa will provide funds for the ferry landings.

An appropriation for the two jobs will be included in supplementary estimates, he said.

Mr. Winters said it was felt the federal and provincial governments should build the ferry landings as a joint project. B.C. Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi and Attorney-General Robert Bonner now are in Ottawa, where discussions of ferry operations will be an important part of their agenda.

Gavin Mout, president of Gulf Islands Ferries Ltd., was jubilant when he heard the news. He said the ferry George S. Pearson, now in Victoria, is ready to start the Crofton-Vesuvius Bay service immediately wharves are available.

Establishment of the service has had the support of chambers of commerce and municipal officials of Nanaimo, Duncan, Chemainus, Crofton, Salt Spring Island and Ladysmith.

Federal action is a reversal of the opinion announced some weeks ago, when it was decided that construction of the ferry slip at Vesuvius Bay was a provincial responsibility.

Chemainus Ready For Fish Derby

CHEMAMUS — Nineteen third annual Rod and Gun Club salmon derby has been set as Sunday, Aug. 29.

President Al Dyer announced this week that derby prizes will be worth well over $500. First prize will be a 12-foot boat equipped with an outboard motor. In addition, there will be prizes for runners-up and special prizes for the women's and junior divisions.

PTA Plans All-Night Dance For High School Graduation

LADYSMITH — Parents will take charge of graduation celebrations of the senior high school class of District 67, school trustees learned this week.

In a report to the board J. M. Petrak, senior principal, announced that the 1954 graduating class has agreed to accept the suggestion of the district PTA council of confining all "official" or "sanctioned" graduation celebrations to one night. The school's responsibility, he said, will be "only the graduation ceremony and the reception which follows."

After the reception the PTA will take over and present plans called for an all-night dance and breakfast in Chemainus.

"I am pleased with the arrangement. It puts the responsibility for the all-night celebration where it should be — on the parents," Mr. Petrak said.

The graduation is planned for June 4, he announced.

ATTEND COLLEGE

In a letter to the board Mr. Petrak reported that only four Grade 12 students have expressed an interest in continuing their studies in the local high school next year. Others interested in going on have apparently made arrangements to attend Victoria College or UBC, he said.

As four students would not be sufficient to form a class, the board decided to discontinue Grade 13 during the coming school year.

Mr. Petrak also reported that the Ladysmith Kinsmen Club will offer a $100 bursary this year. Decision as to whether it will be offered for Grade 12 or Grade 15 has not yet been made. Trustee Bob Edwards reported on the Ladysmith PTA's plan to improve the grounds of the high school and obtained the views of the other board members as to how extensive the program should be.

Tristram Seaton told the board that arrangements are being made for the levelling and clearing of the grounds preparatory to the improvement program.

Resignations were received from Miss E. Pamela Noel, commercial teacher at the high school, and from G. Sutherland, a member of the staff of the Chemainus-Junior High School. Miss Noel's resignation, does not become effective until the end of the school term. Mr. Sutherland has already left and Mrs. Gertrude Philp has been appointed to take his place.

Mrs. K. G. Boyd of Chemainus has been appointed to fill the elementary school vacancy in Chemainus created by the transfer of Mrs. Philp.

Unemployment At Nanaimo 'Not Serious'

NANAIMO — The unemployment picture here "is not as serious as it appears," according to the April report of the National Employment Office, and major construction jobs will be in "full swing" shortly.

A few of the larger jobs are: Salvation Army Citadel renovation, $50,000; Nanaimo Hospital remodelling, $50,000; new bottling plant, $80,000; the Sears-Simpson and Safeway stores, new school, warehouse, apartment and further work at the boys' industrial school project.

WOODS SHORTAGE

A definite shortage exists in several skilled categories in the logging industry and small camps up-island are having difficulty in finding crews.

Several categories in construction trades also report shortages and most work at present is of a temporary basis.

Soviet Will Allow Marriage To Foreigners

Removal of Ban Means Little Change

LONDON (AP)—The Kremlin today formally lifted its seven-year-old ban on the marriage of Soviet citizens to foreigners.

Moscow radio, in a broadcast heard here, announced that the Supreme Soviet parliament, has proved a decree issued last November permitting such unions. At the same time, the parliament put back on the law books a clause forbidding any change of citizenship as a result of such a marriage.

The action is not expected to make any difference in Soviet relations with the Western world.

A foreign office spokesman here said "all it does, in effect, is allow Russians to marry citizens from the satellite states."

SOME WRANGLES

Soviet citizens have previously contracted marriage with Westerners, particularly during the Second World War, but Russian reluctance to let the Soviet partners to the union leave the U.S.S.R. has led to some diplomatic wrangles.

The Soviet ban on marriages to foreigners was imposed in 1947 after one such skirmish when Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin demanded permission for 15 wives of Britons to leave the Soviet Union.

Only one of these wives ever got out. Six Russian wives of American citizens were permitted to leave, as was the Russian wife of a Chilean.

Bionda Due Today

Eastern Defense Star To Join Shamrocks

A defenseman with the scoring punch of a forward was scheduled to arrive in Victoria today to serve a hitch with the Victoria Shamrocks.

Jack Bionda, who finished third in the Ontario Lacrosse Association individual scoring race last season, telephoned Shamrock coach Red McMillan from Seattle early this morning to say he would be in town with his wife sometime today.

Bionda's arrival is been anxiously awaited by Shamrock officials.

First of all they had to wait while the starry ace finished off his hockey season with Toronto Marliners. Then they feared he might be delayed by road closures on his way to the coast. However, Bionda apparently missed the closures.

Standing six feet one inch and weighing about 180 pounds, Bionda turned in an amazing scoring performance last year.

Playing defense, he finished third in the OLA scoring even though he was with the last-place Hamilton club.

He is described by Nip O'Hearn, Rock acquisition from Peterborough, as "without a doubt the greatest stick-handler I have ever seen."

With Bionda and defenseman Ross Lowe now in town, and Jack Sibbald and Bob Monaghan expected momentarily, Shamrocks should be a much-improved club when they play their second game of the schedule, May 12, against Nanaimo.

Rocks opened the schedule with a 12-9 victory over Vancouver Pils Wednesday.

Everton Promoted To First Div.

LONDON (Reuters) — Everton, by defeating Oldham Athletic 4-0 tonight, finished in second place behind Leicester City in the English Soccer League's Second Division and gained promotion to the First Division.

Everton totaled 56 points, the same as Leicester, but Leicester heads the division with the best goal average.

The British honors list for the season now is complete, except for the Football Association Cup final to be decided on Saturday. The list is:

International Championship—Winner, England; runner-up, Scotland.
English League, Division 1—Champion, Wolverhampton Wanderers; relegated to Division II, Middlesbrough and Liverpool.
Division II—Promoted, Leicester City and Everton; relegated to the Third Division, Brentford and Oldham Athletic.
Division III Southern—Promoted, Ipswich Town; to seek re-election, Colchester United and Walsall.
Division III Northern—Promoted, Port Vale; to seek re-election, Hull Town and Chester.
Scottish Cup—Winner, Celtic; runner-up, Aberdeen.
Scottish League, Division A—Champion, Celtic; relegated, Airdrieonians and Hamilton Academical.
Scottish League, Division B—Promoted, Motherwell and Kilmarnock; bottom clubs, Dundee United and Dumbarton.
SAGINAW, Mich.—Al Andrews, 181, Superior, Wis., outpooled Sammy Maxtrick, 154, Pittsburgh, 10-9.

Minor Baseballers Open Season Monday

The minor baseball curtain goes up Monday as the Victoria and District Baseball Association presents two games, one in each of the juvenile and bantam leagues.

At Beacon Hill Park at 6, Bernie Nichols and Vic Van Storage open the bantam season while Saanich and James Bay see the first juvenile league action at Macdonald Park at 6. The same pattern will follow with bantams playing their games at Beacon Hill and juvenile games being held at Macdonald Park.

A total of nine teams has en-

Morrison-Merriman Test Tops Island Golf Meet

There'll be no place for duffers Sunday when the Francis-McCormack Island Open Golf Tournament moves into the quarter-final round at Gorge Vale Golf Club.

The qualifying round and two match play rounds have cut the once-large field down to eight survivors and four of these are going to fall by the wayside before the next draw is made.

Sunday's championship draw provides four interesting matches with the Bob Morrison-John Merriman meeting holding the spotlight.

Morrison is defending champion this year, having defeated Bob Fleming in last year's final. Merriman, ranked as an outsider at the start of the tournament, upset the applicant last Sunday when he ousted favored Fleming 3 and 2 in the second round of match play.

Hugh Morrison meets Cy Spaven, Colwood pro Bill Court takes on Al Senior, and Victoria Golf Club assistant pro Laurie Carroll tests former Open champ Eric Hibberson in the other matches.

Draw follows:

CHAMPIONSHIP
1.00—Hugh Morrison vs. C. Spaven.
1.06—Bob Morrison vs. John Merriman.
1.12—Bill Court vs. Al Senior.
1.18—Eric Hibberson vs. Laurie Carroll.
HANDICAP
1.30—W. Allen vs. P. Frith.
1.36—H. Doherty vs. T. Armstrong.
1.42—W. Martin vs. J. Hall.
1.48—S. Evans vs. C. J. Robertson.

DENVER—Red Mattingly, 117, Denver, knocked out Junior Best, 122, Ball Lake, City, 10-9.

EYES OF SOCCER WORLD TURNED TOWARD WEMBLEY

Halfback Hesitant, But Picks West Brom

Saturday afternoon 100,000 soccer fans will crowd Wembley stadium to witness the 73rd annual English Football Association Cup Final between Lancashire's Preston North End and the Midlands' West Bromwich Albion.

The game will also have an estimated 30,000,000 television and radio listeners on hand to share the thrills that are associated with this English sports classic.

And this year's final promises to be a classic in every sense. The two finalists are so evenly matched that it is in the realms of probability that the game could go into overtime and even be forced to a deciding replay.

It is recognized that the teams are two of the most polished sides in England today, and although West Bromwich finished in second place in the First Division league it may be noted that they have a slightly inferior goal average to Preston.

While West Bromwich have suffered some injuries during the last three weeks of league play, it is expected that they will be able to field their strongest line-up. The team should read: Heath, Rickaby and Millard; Dudley, Kennedy and Barlow; Griffin, Ryan, Allen, Nichols and Lee.

Fans will note that the halfback line is again at full strength with the return of Joe Kennedy after a lengthy absence through injury. It is in this half-line that lies the secret of West Brom's success.

Barlow at left half is in fact a sixth forward and often features on the scoresheet, along with Allen and Nichols, the "Throstles" one-two punch. Allied with Barlow's ability to score, he is a capable ball-juggler who plays a forcing game, earmarking him the danger man of Albion's cup team. His opposite wing-half, Dudley, is more the orthodox half-back; a great distributor of the ball, he fits perfectly into the West Bromwich game.

Vic Buckingham, the West Brom mentor, has adopted the continental style game with his forwards. Centre-forward Allen continually roams while inside-forwards Ryan and Nichols poach their share of goals. Wingers Griffin and Lee vary in style, the first mentioned being a fast-breaking type winger, while Lee is inclined to artistry.

The West Bromwich defense is adequate enough, although in recent games it has appeared somewhat stale and has conceded more than its share of goals.

Preston, after a slow start, have reached the peak of their game and are confident they can equal the feat of the 1938 Preston team that was successful at Wembley against Huddersfield Town.

With seven Scots on the team, and managed by Mr. Scott-Symon, another former Scottish star, Preston's game is the typical close-passing style associated with football north of the border.

Although a powerful aggression, their strength does not lie in balanced teamwork but rather in the many international stars who are fortunate to wear the white shirt of "Proud Preston."

Their match-winner is captain and right-winger Tom Finney, and if he is on his game Preston will be difficult to beat. A dangerous man, Finney is the complete footballer. Coupled with the service he gets from wing-half Tom Docherty, this combination could prove the vital factor in taking the cup back to Lancashire for a second year.

At centre-forward, little Charlie Wayman is a goal scorer de luxe and centre-half Kennedy will have his hands full if Wayman gets the ball along the ground. Foster and Baxter, Preston's insides, may experience dif-

Tyees Lose Game, But Win Pitcher

Capilanos Flash Power; Perez Gets Four Hits

By RON COULTER, Times Sports Writer.

VANCOUVER—Victoria Tyees failed in their bid to open the 1954 Western International Baseball League on a successful note here Thursday night, but possibly with at least one addition to an undermanned hurling staff, the club will be able to even the count with Vancouver

Capilanos tonight.

Cold Hurts Attendance At Openers

The Western International Baseball League opened for business Thursday night, and, frankly, business could have been better.

Cold and the threat of rain held down opening night attendance everywhere but at Vancouver where 3,000 fans turned out to watch the Capilanos dust off

Thursday night Capilanos spotted Tyees a four-run lead at the end of the second inning and then roared from behind to score a 12-7 victory behind the timely hitting of newcomers Nick Pesut and big Dick Greco.

Tyees will counter tonight by sending righthander Hal Flynn to the mound in an effort to hit the winning column.

Tyees business manager, Reg Patterson, announced Thursday night that the club may sign pitcher Baz Nagle, released Thursday by Capilanos, in an attempt to strengthen the pitching staff.

Nagle, a righthander, saw action with the Campbell River Athletics, amateurs last season.

CAPS STRONG

Capilanos outthrew Tyees 15-11 in their opening victory and the result augurs well for the success of the mainland club, which was picked to capture the league title in pre-season predictions.

Tyees started fast, reaching pitcher "Big Frank" for three runs on four hits in the first inning.

Second baseman Ron Jackson led off with a walk, manager Don Pries filed out and then successive hits by Tom Perez, Steve Mesner, Eddie Lake and Joe Joshua accounted for three runs.

Tyees pushed across one more run in the second before Franks was relieved by Bob Roberts, who limited Tyees to a singleton in the seventh and two runs in the top of the ninth.

Capilanos tied the score in the fourth with one run after scoring three in the third and then broke the game open with five runs in the sixth and a three-run outburst in the seventh.

Greco and Pesut were big factors in the Vancouver win. Making his first appearance in a Capilano uniform, Greco pounded out two singles and a long triple to drive in three runs in three official trips. Pesut connected for a triple and a single to drive in four runs, as did Ken Richardson. Bob Drilling started on the mound for Tyees and gave up 11 hits and eight runs before being relieved in the sixth by Mike Kershner, who completed the game. Roberts was the winning pitcher.

Outfielder Tom Perez paced Victoria batters with four safeties, including a triple.

Several Name Bowlers Eliminated

SEATTLE (AP)—The American Bowling Congress Masters' Tournament narrowed its field to 12 contestants Thursday night and only three "name" bowlers survived the double elimination meet.

Rolling in the "winners" bracket quarter-finals Friday were Willard Taylor, Charles W. Va., 1952 Masters champion; Chuck O'Donnell, St. Louis; ABC 10-year-average leader, and Dick Hoover, the Ft. Lewis, Wash., soldier from Akron, Ohio, and former all-star match game champion.

Curt Minten of Memnonone Falls, Wis.; Harry Livesey Jr., Missoula; John Copeland, Berkeley, Calif.; Russell Carroll, Yakima, Wash.; Dr. Roswell Keyes, Bellingham, Wash.; Ken Bailor, San Francisco, and Josie Razore and Bill Blanks of Seattle.

Minten stayed in the 12-man field the hard way. He rolled a 798 four-game tie score with Paul Kringle of Seattle, in the fifth round of the losers' bracket, and emerged the victor in a sudden-death playoff, 225-187.

Earlier defending champion Rudy Habetler of Chicago, Lee Jouglaard of Detroit, an ex-champion, and stars like Steve Nagy of Cleveland, Joe Norris of Chicago, Nelson Burton of St. Louis and Lou Farkas of Toledo, were eliminated.

Why Canadians are Peeved at the U.S.

In an unusually forthright article by the distinguished Canadian writer, BRUCE HUTCHISON, Collier's magazine examines the reasons for recent Canadian-U.S. friction.

What's the real story of the Gouzenko affair?

Why did it cause more anti-American sentiment than any other event of this century?

Did a U.S. cabinet officer commit a serious breach of international etiquette?

Don't miss WHY CANADIANS ARE PEEVED AT THE U.S. It's "must" reading on a timely topic—in Collier's, on newsstands now.

Rejects Race Inquiry

LONDON (Reuters)—The government Thursday night rejected suggestions that an inquiry should be held into the running of the Grand National—the world's toughest steeplechase—in which four of the 29 starters this year had to be killed.

Correlation Derby Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—The richest Kentucky Derby of them all loomed today for Saturday's 80th annual running with 21 probable favorites still listed in the field as the entry box opened.

Should the names of all 21 be dropped in the box it will mean the net value to the winner will be $106,800. The record for derby winnings was set by count turf in 1951 when he picked up $98,050. Even if only 14 of the probabilities go into the starting gate on Saturday, there will be a new money winning record because the net still would be $98,800.

Track conditions will decide whether all of the 21 go. But it appeared certain that the owners of all those three-year-olds would drop entries into the box. That action calls for a $250 fee; then if they start on Saturday, there is an additional fee of $750.

However, the owners and trainers have until 45 minutes before derby post time of 5:30 p.m. (ET) to withdraw.

Chances are that a lot of them will wait until the last minute.

waiting to see how the track will be.

While the advance forecast called for rain and a muddy track, the newest weather prediction said the rain would stop Friday night with clear and cool weather for Saturday. If that is the case, the track should be fast, for Churchill downs dries quickly.

With 21 probabilities still in the running, Correlation was quoted as a 5-2 favorite. The winner of the Wood Memorial last Saturday had been quoted at 2-1 in the first Derby odds line.

Only the fact that the field may be so large dropped his odds. For when more than a dozen or so horses go for a mile and a quarter, racing luck often plays a big part in the picture.

Goyamo, the Blue Grass Stakes winner, was the second choice in the betting odds at 7-2, followed by Determine, and his stablemate, Allied, at 5-1. Fisherman, second to Correlation in the Wood, was quoted at 6-1 and then came Hasty Road, who won the derby trial Tuesday.

and his running mate, Sea o' Erin, at 8-1.

The outsiders were King Phalanx and Timely Tip at 20-1. Those two, along with six others, had been listed at 100-1 but when it looked like 21 horses might go it meant group ing eight of them in the field. The field was quoted at 12-1 and the probabilities were Close Out, Al and the probabilities were Close Out, For Free, Gov. Browning, is last.

Mel Leavitt, Ordained, Pinetum, and Super Devil.

Black Metal, Hasseyampa, Admiral Porter and James Session were listed at 15-1. For Free and Super Devil were regarded as doubtful starters. Sea o' Erin may not go unless the track is muddy. The same with Close Out. Al and the probabilities were Close Out, For Free, Gov. Browning, is last.

Anti-British Party in Honduras Wins Election but Power Limited

By JULIAN BATES
BELEZE (Reuters)—The People's United Party has won eight seats out of nine in the British Honduras' first general election, it was announced Thursday night.

This gives the P.U.P. an overall majority in the new legislative council where there are also three nominated and three official members.

But its power in this Caribbean British colony will be limited because it cannot control the important executive council.

Jubilant P.U.P. supporters attended victory parties as results from Wednesday's elections showed party candidates swamping all opposition in the three Belize constituencies.

Final results from the country district of Cayo showed P.U.P. candidate Enrique Depaz surpassing unofficial overnight results to defeat his National party opponent, S. A. Mackinstry, by 1,010 votes to 118.

The National party, the anti-British P.U.P.'s strongest opposition, suffered another setback when its strongest candidate, Herbert Fuller, lost by 101 votes to Philip Goldson, in the Belize South constituency.

Nearly three-quarters of the voters in Belize West backed the young Negro P.U.P. leader, Leigh Richardson, and his demands that British Honduras "oust the British."

Party secretary George Price, who also won a seat, reaffirmed Thursday the party's pledge to co-operate with the colonial government "for the welfare of the people." A government investigation recently alleged that the P.U.P. had received financial support from the Communist-tinged government of neighboring Guatemala.

Norway is 1,100 miles from north to south, with a maximum width of 270 miles.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Yesterday I put away the baggage. And on the back of a Furness Line tag attached to my favorite wife's overnight case, I found a few hastily scribbled notes. I am not sure she intended them for publication in their present form. But I will soon know... for here they are.

Just love traveling... must have Monte do piece on how much I love traveling... but I'm sure the young man of the house will forget to eat three times a day... I do miss my little doggie... forgot to pack face cloth... wish I were home...

Strange signs on Seattle street trash cans... "WASTE ONLY PUSH"... must tell The Old Man... he can make really funny, such as he knows politicians who waste only pull.

Someone suggested we kill time between trains window-shopping... never did like window-shopping... have plenty windows at home now, why should shop for more? (must tell The Old Man... he might make a funny out of this).

Like expression used by waitress at lunch... she apologized for slowness, said "I've just been out with the flu." Wondered to myself, who this flu? Or flu who? Or who flu? (Mustn't tell The Old Man... he might try to make a funny).

Like U.S.A. style of merchandising. Buy anything on credit. Saw this sign in Los Angeles window: "SALE... Piggy Banks, now 19 cents... use your credit." (One oink down and two squeals a week?)

Got shock of my life as train paused at Redding, California. Saw sign on building "PGE." Asked The Old Man if he knew Premier Bennett had already extended PGE this far South. Old Man faintly. Revived him in time to explain PGE stands for Pacific Gas & Electric in this part of country.

Visited friends with TV set. Watched fight (?) between two gentlemen in Miami. Tried to watch gentlemen listen to announcer telling us what gentlemen were doing. Decided this must have same general effect on nervous system as The Old Man trying to read the paper and listen to me at same time. (Will not pass this on to The Old Man... he might use it).

Boarded ship Pacific Northwest today. Met Capt. Perry, from over 'ome. Saw expression on Old Man's Face as Capt. said "we'll be there quick's Bob's your uncle." Have now seen everything.

Wonder how my little doggie is... I'm sure the young man isn't eating enough... wish I'd remembered to pack a face cloth... I just love traveling.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A clamp-down on speeders in Saanich brought fines to four Thursday in Saanich police court. Gerald May, 409 Fraser, was heaviest loser. He was caught twice the same day and paid $30 on the first charge, $35 on the second.

Malcolm D. Polson, 5024 Pat Bay Highway, Warren Edward Kyse of Silver Spring, Maryland, and Thomas E. Callender of Royal Oak, were fined $35, $50 and $30, respectively.

Miss Thelma Pollock put in her last day as chief librarian of the Victoria Public Library today. Her resignation, tendered Feb. 3, was accepted by the board March 29, and today set as her last work day. She will be on leave with pay during May, at the end of which her 27 years with the library will be officially terminated. Taking over as acting chief librarian is John Lort, who until now has served as assistant.

Junior Red Cross at Sidney raised $31 for the April Shower of Dimes by selling hot dogs at school at noon hour, officials of the annual campaign said today. Total subscribed to the fund to benefit Queen Alexandra Solarium is $8,154. The drive will close Saturday with a tag day in the city, Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

City council has given initial passage to a new traffic ordinance which will legalize passing on the inside on streets where multiple lanes are marked.

Douglas Street is presently being painted as a multiple-lane street. A double white line to mark the centre will extend from the Saanich boundary to Humboldt Street.

FUN WITH FIGURES

By J. A. HUNTER

Simple Simon's boss had given him 48 letters to take round to the post-office, with instructions to buy the stamps and stick them on. They were all ordinary short letters to various addresses across Canada. When Simon returned, his boss asked if he had remembered that postal rates were boosted on April 1. Simon may be simple, but he is also honest. "No, Mr. Best," he replied, "I figured out the total at three cents for the local letters, four cents for out-of-town, and seven cents for air mail. Then the clerk reminded me about the rate hike. Now it's four cents for local, and five for all the others, with no special rate for air. But the total cost came out exactly the same." This seemed very strange, but Mr. Best checked on it and found that Simon was right. How many of those letters would have gone at the old seven-cent rate?

Thursday's Answer: There were 45 at the luncheon.

Three motorists were fined $35 each in Saanich police court Thursday on charges of careless driving.

Bernard S. Lake, 3506 Richmond, was charged following a collision at Gorge and Tillicum, April 19. Damages amounted to $350. Kimberley Sacht of Sayward paid a similar fine for erratic driving on the highway and Derek John Fletcher, 920 Admirals, was also summoned after an accident. He told police that an April 8, Burnside Road, collision had occurred when he took his eyes off the road to look into the glove compartment.

Watson Wootton, R.R. No. 1, Saanich, was fined $250 in city police court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He was remanded to May 6 for a probation report before Magistrate H. C. Hall decides whether his license will be suspended.

City Council's public works committee intends to ask City Council to add $1,860 to its provisional budget. At a meeting this morning, the committee decided to seek approval to spend $1,500 for cleaning logs off Gonzales beach, and $360 for equipment and services in connection with Victoria and District Film Council summer showings in Beacon Hill Park.

Nurses at Jubilee and St. Joseph's emergency wards are sure that spring is here in spite of chill winds. The parade of youngsters, suffering from hitch-hiking wood ticks, dog bites and "baseball fingers" is under way. However, both hospitals reported that the "situation is no worse than usual," for this time of year.

Failing to have the printed license for his car in a "conspicuous place" within his car cost Donald Victor Robinson, 3980 Quadra, $10 in city police court today.

RCMP at Colwood have found the owners of two dogs which were killed recently while raiding rabbit hutches in the area. One of the animals was licensed and police have not yet disclosed whether any action will be taken against the owner.

The other dog was unlicensed and charges will be laid, it was announced today.

A sailor, Frederick J. Court, was taken to RCN hospital at HMCS Naden with a broken arm at 7 a.m. today following a two-car crash at Blanshard and Bay Streets.

Police said Court's car had been in collision with one driven by Ronald Lou Poy, 945 Pembroke. Damage to both cars was classified as medium.

Defense Minister piped aboard HMCS Comox.

BACK TONIGHT

School Choir Winners Named At Festival

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

A concert featuring a number of school choirs selected by Vancouver adjudicator, Sherwood Robson, in sessions during today and Thursday, will wind up this section of the Greater Victoria Musical Festival tonight at the Metropolitan Church.

Also on the program, which commences at 8 p.m., are two competitions, one each for boys' and girls' choirs, Grades 7, 8 and 9.

A festival spirit reigned among the young people all through the day. They were enjoying a break from school, they enjoyed singing and if there was any anxiety over the competitive angles, it certainly wasn't reflected in the universally happy faces.

CLOSE MARKS

Sir James Douglas School, Division 1, topped the class for Grade 5 choirs, with a marking of 171. Second was Willows School, Division 2, and third, Margaret Jenkins. In Grade 2, Cedar Hill School was first with 170, followed closely by Oaklands, Division 13, and James Bay, who were tied, Margaret Jenkins, Division 10, placed third.

Thursday afternoon school choir results were as follows: Grade 5, Sir James Douglas School, 169; Tolmie School, second, and McKenzie Avenue, third. Grade 7, Tillicum School, 162; second, McKenzie Avenue, Grade 8, View Royal, 168. Private schools, 20 voices and over, St. Ann's Academy, 170; 20 voices and under, St. Margaret's School, 170.

PIANO CLASSES

Piano solo classes continued Thursday afternoon and today at St. John's Hall, with Lyell Gustin as adjudicator. In a class of 37 entries for 11 years and under, Alan G. Radcliff took first with 172 marks. Merla Law was second with 168; Karen Troop and Joanne Parsons tied for third with 167.

Piano, seven years and under, Marlene Wilcox was first with 167 and Clinton Hall and Michael Baker tied for second with 166. Margaret Richmond won sight reading, 16 years and under, with 85; Lorna Mulholland was second with 83. Eighteen years and under, sight reading, Monica Nash, 84; 17 years and under, Lawrence Reid, 85; Marlene Rae Hunt, 83. Primary, nine years and under, Dallas Stoney, 84; Gail Craig, 82. Junior, 13 years and under, Dana Thompson, 83.

TODAY'S GARDEN HINT

Garden Like Income Tax, Has Dependents

How can anyone write gardening hints when the mind is cluttered with income tax terms and figures?

As far as gardening is concerned, the total income includes the flowers and vegetables grown from seed, and the increasing beauty of shrubs, trees, and perennials as the years pass.

Dependents? Yes. Some plants are totally dependent on the gardener throughout their life. Others learn to fend for themselves.

Of bad debts we have a few. Those plants which never survive to repay the care and dedication we give them. Deciduous is always present, and provision must be made for replacement.

The cost of earning this income may be considerable or negligible, depending on the personal outlook. It will entail a study of plants, much planning, digging, and weeding, some backaches and some heartaches. But it will be worth it.

Now for today's garden hint. St. George's Parish Hall at Cordova Bay will be used for a tea and flower show Saturday afternoon. Judging from past shows, this is one investment you should make, and the dividends are not taxable.

Lions Drop High School Girl May Queen Plan

B.C. Products Fair Queen Takes Over

The selection of Victoria's May Queen from among senior girls in the five Greater Victoria high schools will no longer be part of the city's May 24 celebration.

School authorities have objected to the arrangement which has been carried on for the last five years, and the Lions Club, which has handled that phase of the celebration, has washed its hands of the matter.

Victoria will still have a queen in connection with the celebration, however.

Arrangements have been made for a girl selected "Miss B.C. Products" at next week's Products Fair at Memorial Arena to step into the celebration picture.

She will be given an added crown at a ceremony to be held on the steps of the Parliament Buildings on Saturday, May 22. She will not be crowned "May Queen," but will be crowned as "Miss Victoria."

SCHOOL OBJECTIONS

Jack Horne, chairman of a Lions Club committee which was to have arranged the May Queen program for this year, acknowledged today the chief reason his club was dropping the matter was because of objections from school authorities.

"They are definitely not in favor of it, and this would have been the last year anyway," he said.

He acknowledged, too, financial difficulties figured in the issue.

Victoria has had a May Queen since 1946 when the May 24 celebration was revived after the war. For the first three years, the girl was selected by popular vote. The system of selection was changed in 1949 to draw from the high schools.

Students at each school elected a candidate and from these a queen and two princesses were picked in a drawing from a goldfish bowl. The method has met with general public favor, particularly from the high school youngsters.

Car Thief Jailed Year; Pal Freed

One man was sentenced to a year in jail but another, held on the same charge of auto theft, was freed in city police court today.

Gordon Arthur Musclow, Vancouver, who pleaded guilty April 22, was sentenced to one year in Oakalla. Charge against Henry Clarence Dahl was dismissed.

The pair had been arrested by RCMP at Blairmore, Alta., while sleeping in a car which had been taken from Wilson Motors, 909 Yates, March 30. Detective Richard Berry testified before Magistrate H. C. Hall that Musclow took the car to Vancouver then to Saskatchewan where it was registered.

SASKATCHEWAN PLATES

He said the accused had produced Saskatchewan plates for it.

RCMP had found four metal serial number plates in the car, one of which had been removed from a Victoria U-drive previously, Musclow admitted. He said Dahl had not known about the number plates. A Manitoba license plate was also discovered in the car. Dahl pleaded not guilty earlier.

A new skating rink may be built here "within the next year."

The Victoria Figure Skating Club announced today it is exploring the possibilities of building a rink for its 800 members because of "unfavorable conditions at the Memorial Arena."

The proposed new ice arena would cost about $100,000. Two plans are open to the club for the building of a rink.

Dr. R. Robertson, chairman of the club's new rink committee, disclosed.

The first, the club would pay the entire cost of the new rink. The second, the club would "pool" their resources with a business group in undertaking the project.

MORE ICE TIME

The business group has promised the club a written contract giving the members more ice time with better hours, together with representation on the directorate managing the rink if it will share costs for the project, Dr. Robertson said. Names of the group were not disclosed.

He said before the two plans are considered a circular letter is being distributed among members asking them if they are ready to invest $100 towards a skating rink. If sufficient pledges are received, the club will start immediately to discuss the building project.

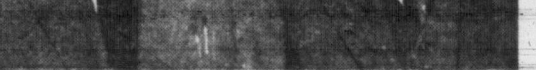

The move to build a new club is largely due to unsatisfactory ice time at the Memorial Arena, especially with regard to juniors. Their practice time during the week is between 7 and 8:30 a.m.

"We have a junior membership of 560, the largest in Canada," said one official. "Some times there are over 500 people on the ice and it is practically impossible to practice."

Another factor which irks the members is the rental cost for the ice at the arena.

Most cities across Canada have their winter clubs, it was pointed out. In some cases, these clubs include rink, badminton courts, squash courts and swimming pools.

Such a plan, however, is not yet contemplated for Victoria. "All we want is a roof over our heads to start with," Dr. Robertson said.

New Victoria postmaster is Robert F. Reid, left, who took over today on the retirement of John B. Sinclair.

New Chief on Job Despite PO Protest

Robert F. Reid, Vancouver, took over as acting postmaster at the Victoria Post Office today, as employees waited for an answer to a protest to Ottawa that the appointment should go to a Victoria man.

He takes over from Postmaster John B. Sinclair, who leaves Saturday on extended vacation before going on retirement.

Regional postal officials here from Vancouver to say goodbye to Mr. Sinclair for his long service to the Post Office Department, suggested Mr. Reid's appointment was only of a "temporary nature" until an Ottawa ruling has been made on the appeal.

Local postal workers opposed the appointment of a non-Victorian because they think there are men on staff qualified for the position.

ON VANCOUVER STAFF

Mr. Reid was educated in West Vancouver. He has been with the Vancouver Post Office since 1936 and for the last five years has been a postal inspector in the Vancouver district.

$100 in Tools Stolen in Night Raid on Garage

Over $100 worth of mechanic's tools were stolen in an overnight raid on a city garage in which a washroom sink was smashed when a burglar dropped through a skylight.

Police said glass had been removed from a skylight at Scott and Wright Service Station, 921 Wharf, and the tools which were left in a metal tool-box were missing this morning.

Oak Bay Approves Art Centre Grant

Oak Bay municipality approved a $250 grant to Greater Victoria Arts Centre in an in-camera session following an April 22 council meeting, it was learned today.

The announcement, made by curator Colin Graham, came as city aldermen consider a tentative budget which included an $8,865 requested grant for the centre.

For Mr. Sinclair this is the end of a 46-year career in the postal service, all served in Victoria. He had been postmaster since 1947.

The retiring chief served under three postmasters. They were Noah Shakespeare, Harry F. Bishop and George Gardiner. He was the sixth PM since Victoria was chosen as the capital city of British Columbia. First postmaster was Henry Wootton, grandfather of lawyer Robert Wootton.

Asked what his future plans were, Mr. Sinclair said: "I'll be devoting my time chiefly to my hobbies, my principal joy being the garden."

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Who was the author of "The Coral Island"? E.M.

A. Robert Michael Ballantyne (1825-1894), famous as a writer of boys' fiction stories, wrote that book in 1857. His stories were much read also by girls, and even yet his books are popular with the young. A sequel to "The Coral Island" is "The Gorilla Hunters," written in 1861.

Q. Can you tell me how Bee Street got its name? R.L.

A. The Times has made a search, but there appears to be no written account of the opening and naming of that, short street in what is now Oak Bay. Residents of the municipality, particularly citizens living on or near the street, have often speculated on the source of the name, and the speculations have frequently taken the form of opinions that the name arose from some incident involving a bee or bees, for instance, a spectacular horse runaway caused by stings, but these remain merely conjectures. No written record has been found at the Oak Bay Municipal Hall.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Produce Market Features Tempting Spring Fruit

By PENNY SAVER

Three cheers... I'm the bearer of good news! Yup, today I discovered that many fruit and vegetable prices are slipping rapidly now that spring's in full swing.

Strawberries, which made their debut just this time last week at 45 cents a basket are already down to 39 cents—and my, they did look luscious!

As for those peas in pods, folks, they are now down to just 35 cents for two pounds, which is quite a change from last week's tag of 23 cents a pound. (And I thought that was cheap!)

Cucumbers, too, are down: Long English seedless cukes, instead of being 36 cents apiece are only 29 cents each now.

If you've been craving half a cantalope all winter long, you may now enjoy one that's fresh and juicy. Yep, the imported cants are here, selling at 27 cents each—a reasonable price, indeed!

Before I forget... the winesaps! I know many folks love their juicy sweetness, so I'm telling you that you may buy the apples in Victoria for 29 cents for two pounds. Anjou pears this week are five for 25 cents and large-size Emperor grapes are 39 cents for two pounds.

Cauliflower lovers will be pleased to learn that they can now buy the vegetable ready-cut in sections, washed and packaged for use. You pay 27 cents per pack. Turnips are selling at 25 cents for four pounds and new potatoes are priced the same.

WHY GROW OLD?

Reducing Exercises Don't Help—What's the Matter?

Q—"I have been doing waist and hip-reducing exercises for a month with no results. I am 16 years old and would appreciate your advice."

A—"You did not give your height or weight, therefore, I cannot intelligently advise you except to say that I imagine you probably haven't any fat to reduce. When measurements are dictated by bone rather than by fatty deposits, exercise will not reduce."

One of two things must be true about you; either the measurements you are trying to change are due to skeleton rather than fat or you are overweight and are trying to reduce by exercise alone, without counting your calories.

Q—"I am a girl 13 years old and am so unhappy. I have practically no bust. Could you help me?"

A—"Yes, by telling you that you must give nature a little more time. Not many girls have a well developed bust at your age and girls differ. Some girls develop curves earlier than others. Don't worry for a few years yet."

Q—"I am very self-conscious" because I have thin arms. Could you tell me how to build them up?"

A—"Of course, if you are underweight, a gain in poundage will help. However, exercises will be beneficial. Swimming and tennis and badminton will develop the arms. Also do this exercise: Stand tall. Clench your fists hard and bend your elbows, pulling your arms down close to your sides, palms toward the ceiling. Pull down and in hard. Now stretch your arms sideways, shoulder height, palms toward the floor. Again clench your fists, bend your elbows and bring your arms close to your ribs. Continue."

Q—"Is cosmetic wax harmful to use on the face for superfluous hair?"

A—"No. Use it according to directions."

Wedding Etiquette

About four weeks before the ceremony a formal announcement of your engagement should appear in the newspapers in your community and your fiancé's. This is contrary to custom in the United States where announcements are made months in advance. Send the notice a week before you wish it to appear and state the facts simply: Mr. and Mrs. William Leo Shore of Calgary announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Denise, to Mr. Gerald Pringle Grant of Edmonton. The marriage will take place on Saturday, October 3, 1953, at the home of the bride's parents. If your parents are not living the announcement should be made by an aunt, grandmother or older sister or it may be in the third person: The engagement is announced of Jean Denise Blank, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Blank. In the case of divorced parents it should be made in the name of the parent with whom you are living. If you wish to acknowledge a deceased or divorced parent it may be gracefully done in the third person. In the case of a deceased parent: The engagement is announced of Jean Denise, daughter of Mrs. William Blank and the late Mr. Blank. For a divorced parent: The engagement is announced of Jean Denise, daughter of Mrs. Preston (your mother's maiden name) Blank of Calgary and Mr. William Blank of Vancouver. If you wish your picture to appear, enclose a glossy photograph with your name carefully written or printed on the back.

Friends not invited to the ceremony or reception should receive announcements mailed on your wedding day. These should be engraved and formally worded even though the wedding is informal: Mr. and Mrs. Eric Arnold Grey announce the marriage of their daughter, Doris Aileen, to Mr. Wallace Tory on Saturday, April the tenth, nineteen hundred and fifty-four, Victoria.

Callettes Plan a Spring Tea

Mrs. J. Smirl, left, is general convener of the tea to be sponsored by the Callette Group of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society on Saturday in the K. of P. upstairs hall, from 2.30 to 4.30. Mrs. H. Shepherd, centre, and Mrs. J. Marrs are in charge of decorating and home cooking. Others assisting are Mrs. D. Hill, Mrs. G. Dakers, Mrs. W. Bowman, Miss G. MacKay, Mrs. H. Williams, Mrs. G. Underwood and Mrs. G. Moyes. The Drewettes, a junior sewing group in the lodge, will sell candy. There will be a door prize.

PTA NOTES

Langford—The film "Northwest Passage" was shown by the RCMP last Wednesday evening in Langford Community Hall, following meeting of the PTA. Special guests were parents and grades 5 and 6 pupils. A color film of the salmon run concluded the program. Refreshments were served. Plans were made for a garden party in mid-June at the home of Mrs. A. F. Bayles with proceeds for crowning of the queen at the end of July. An innovation at the party will be a layer cake and date loaf competition and a pie stall. Mrs. D. P. Gardner presided.

Christmas Stockings Sent To Northwest Hospital Staff

While Victorians are still welcoming spring, members of the Woman's Auxiliary, Council of Evening Branches, were thinking of Christmas as they packed gay colored stockings with gifts to be shipped to the staff of Aklavik Hospital. The stockings will be sent north this week to Waterways, Alta., from where they will be freighted down the McKenzie River as soon as the ice breaks. Lionel Taylor, for many years a forester in South Africa, was guest speaker at the WA Council of Evening Branches on Wednesday at St. Martin's-in-the-Field Church hall. Mr. Taylor illustrated his extensive travels with colored slides of the country. Mrs. E. Stewart thanked the speaker. The council voted a bursary for a boy and a girl to attend Camp Columbia this summer. Evening Council also provided and served supper at one of the meetings of the girls' festival last week. Next meeting of the Evening Council will be held at St. Luke's on May 26, in place of the proposed meeting at Quallcum, which has been canceled.

To Attend Vancouver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Cox, 1462 Fort Street, will leave this weekend for Vancouver to attend the wedding of their son, Mr. Albert Cox, to Miss Margaret Dobson, which will take place Monday afternoon. Other Victorians who will attend the wedding are Mrs. P. Jeffrey, Mr. J. Fraser and Mr. Richard Cox. Rev. and Mrs. L. Blackmore, Lake Cowichan, also plan to attend.

Invited to Nurses' Graduation

Mrs. Ruth Ione McKenzie, a member of the Royal Jubilee Hospital graduating class of 1954, will have as her guests at graduation ceremonies in the Royal Theatre on Sunday evening her husband, Mr. Wilfred K. McKenzie; her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. H. McKenzie; her parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. Maedel, and Miss Diane, and a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Paterson, all of Alberni, and a brother, Mr. Neil Maedel, Nanaimo. Mr. and Mrs. Maedel and Miss Maedel are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Maedel, Oswego Street.

Invited to attend the ceremony by Miss Bernice Johanna Arnet are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Arnet of Tofino, B.C., and sister and a brother, Miss Norma Arnet and Mr. Edward Arnet of Campbell River.

Miss Rosabelle Mary Condon's guests will include her mother, Mrs. A. E. Jamieson, from Alberta, and Mr. Hugh Grant, Vancouver.

Here for Royal Roads Event

Included in a list of out-of-town guests in Victoria today to attend graduation exercises at Combined Services College, Royal Roads, and the ball on the quarter-deck in the cadet block, this evening, are Miss Nonie Shrove, Ganges; Miss Lynn Webster, Miss Pat Temple, Miss Nora Wheeler, Miss Jean Lyons, Miss Barbara Griffin, Miss Norah Murphy and Miss Gillian Blair, Vancouver; Miss Elizabeth Decker, Miss Alexandra Yuzwa, Miss Gerry Gifford, Miss Shirley Armitage, New Westminster; Miss Sheila Paterson, Miss Darlene Johnston, Nelson; Miss Mary Knight, Lloydminster, Alta.; Miss Donna Gowan, Calgary; Miss Barbara Howarth, Camrose, Alta.; and Miss Dorothy Allen, Edmonton.

Nurses' Graduation Ball

The nurses' residence of the Royal Jubilee Hospital was en fete last evening for the annual graduation ball given by the hospital board of directors. The 70 nurses of the graduating class is one of the largest classes to graduate, and their friends enjoyed the affair. Reeve J. W. Casey, president of the board of directors, and Mrs. Casey, Mr. George Masters, hospital administrator, and Mrs. Masters, and Miss Lucie Woodrow, director of nurses, were in the receiving line. Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hickman and Mr. and Mrs. John Gough were special guests.

Jaycees, BPW Club In Discussion

Members of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club joined with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in a round-table discussion on "Equal Pay for Equal Work." The panel was held following supper meeting of the BPW Club last Monday evening, with more than 70 members and friends of both clubs present. It was sponsored by the civics interest group of the business and professional women.

Miss Verna Beek acted as chairman. Mrs. Norma Smith of the Victoria Toastmistress Club was the moderator, and those taking part on the panel were Miss Marjorie Press and Dr. Anna Steel for the business and professional women and Mr. Norman Nichols and Mr. E. McLean for the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Press explained to the audience the different categories covered in the new Equal Pay For Equal Work Bill passed by the provincial government this spring. Mr. McLean gave an interpretation of the act and described how it is enforced, and Dr. Steel presented an outline of what will be the general effect through implementation of the act.

A lively question and answer period followed. Mrs. Verna Wade expressed thanks to those taking part on the panel.

GIRL GUIDES

Langford — Guide's and Brownies, in uniform, will take part in annual Cookie Week, from May 1 to 8 in the Langford District. Cookies will be distributed to the young saleswomen from the home of the Brown Owl, 925 Island Highway.

Rockland Park Women's Christian Temperance Union, home of Mrs. George Holt, 1168 Rhoda Lane, Monday, 2.30 p.m.

On Eve of Cookie Week

Mrs. Clarence Wallace, honorary president, Provincial Girl Guide Association, inaugurated annual Guide Cookie Week, May 1 to 8, when she bought the first cookies from Guides Judy Leibel, Lynne Oliver and Marie Leibel, left to right. It was an exciting moment for little Lynne when she visited Government House to sell her cookies, for her great-grandfather, Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, KCMG, was a Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. Proceeds of Cookie Week will be used to assist with work of the Dominion Girl Guide movement.

YMCA Auxiliary Tea Held in Mural Room

A centrepiece of bright tulips, daffodils and iris decorated the lace-covered tea table in the Mural Room at the YMCA Thursday afternoon, when the YMCA Ladies' Auxiliary held their annual spring tea. Baskets and vases of spring flowers were placed throughout the room. Mrs. D. McArdie was convener and Mrs. E. S. Appleton, acting president. Mrs. C. C. Annett, past president, received guests.

Mrs. B. E. Nickells and Mrs. Ray Parfitt were in charge of ticket receipts and Mrs. C. A. Gibson, the guest book. Tea arrangements were made by Mrs. H. Fielder and Mrs. M. Ellis. Pouring tea were Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. J. Barraclough, Mrs. W. H. Hickman and Mrs. H. J. Seatts. Servers were Mrs. B. Carruthers, Mrs. F. L. Honor, Mrs. R. D. McCaw, Mrs. H. L. Campbell and Mrs. E. Tomlin.

The program, arranged by Mrs. H. L. Campbell, featured

Dorcas Work Shown, Donations Received At WA Shower Tea

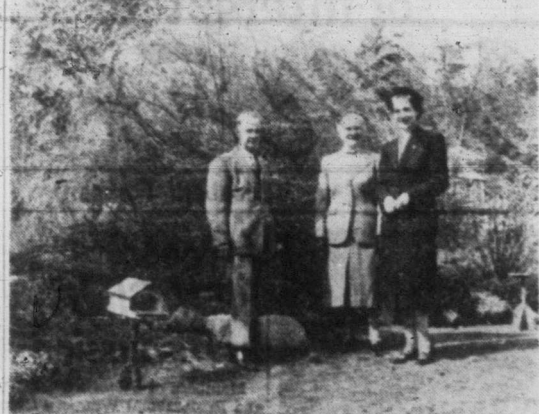

The hospital shower and tea held recently by St. John's Auxiliary Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was an outstanding success.

Guests were received by Mrs. George Biddle and Mrs. T. C. Griffiths, president of the branch. A splendid assortment of Dorcas work was displayed under the supervision of Mrs. C. Tribble. This included quilts and afghans, one of the latter made by a shut-in member of the branch, Mrs. Hancox, will be given to Mrs. H. McSherry, wife of a missionary in Japan.

There were also uniforms and pyjamas made by members for pupils of St. Michael's School, Alert Bay.

Donations of hospital supplies and cash to a value of $200 were received. The supplies will be sent to Akilavik and to Columbia Coast Missions.

Presiding at the head tea table were Mrs. G. C. James, president of St. John's Parish Guild; Mrs. S. C. Hawkins, Mrs. K. Davies and Mrs. F. A. Goodwin, of the Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Ready for 9th Flower Show

Major W. W. Melville, Mrs. H. M. Smith and Mrs. C. H. Rennie, left to right, are members of a committee in charge of arrangements for Cadboro Bay's ninth annual flower show to be held in St. George's Parish Hall on Saturday from 2 to 9.30 p.m. Afternoon tea will be served and light refreshments in the evening. There will be 21 classes, including floral arrangements for both senior and junior entrants. Seven perpetual trophies will be awarded as well as many prizes.

Seasoning Is 'Inside Story' in This Veal Loaf De Luxe Recipe

Here are two recipes good cooks use at home for out-of-town friends—veal loaf with olives and mushrooms in it and a bright rhubarb chiffon pie. Everyone will vote it a delightful springtime meal.

VEAL LOAF DE LUXE

(Yields 6-8 Servings)

One and one-half pounds ground lean veal, 1/2 cup grated process Canadian cheese (2 ounces), 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1/3 cup quick-cooking rice cereal, 2 tablespoons rich milk, 1 egg, beaten, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 8-ounce jar medium-sized stuffed olives, 6-ounce can broiled-in-butter mushrooms, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon gravy maker, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup.

Mix together well veal, cheese, onion, rice, milk, egg and salt. Drain olives and mushrooms well, saving mushroom broth for future use in a gravy or soup.

Pack 1-3 of the meat mixture in the bottom of a lightly oiled loaf pan, 8x4x3 inches. Arrange 1/2 the olives and mushrooms in a pattern on the meat, placing the olives lengthwise the pan and the mushrooms, upside down, pushing into the meat. Firmly pack another 1-3 of the meat over the olives and mushrooms.

Add remaining olives and mushrooms in alternate pattern and, finally, the remaining 1-3 meat in a layer. Press firmly. Turn loaf out on a greased shallow baking pan, brush surface with melted butter and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done through, about 1 hour.

When done brush with a mixture of gravy maker and catsup and return to oven for about 5 to 10 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

RHUBARB CHIFFON PIE

(Yield One 9-inch Pie)

Make one baked 9-inch pie shell.

Filling—Two teaspoons gelatin, 2 tablespoons cold water, 2 eggs, separated, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups rhubarb sauce (one pound rhubarb, sliced thin, 1 cup sugar, and 1 tablespoon water cooked 10 minutes, or until rhubarb is tender), red food coloring, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Soften gelatin in cold water. Stir and cook egg yolks and 1/2 cup sugar over very low heat, or in a double boiler until mixture thickens. Stir in gelatin. Combine with rhubarb sauce.

Cool until thickened but not stiff. Stir in few drops red food coloring. Beat egg whites and salt until soft peaks form. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar gradually while beating until stiff peaks form. Fold into rhubarb mixture. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until set, about 2 hours.

Emotional Tension Makes Child Ill

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

A child reacts very quickly to emotional tension in the home, even when he does not understand the cause of it. A mother writes:

Hurlock

(Q)—My husband is very bossy and is always criticizing me and our three-year-old son. The child is already absorbing the hostile feelings of his father. He strikes back angrily at playmates just as he has seen his father strike at him or at me. When I leave him with a neighbor or sitter for a short time, he gets sick to his stomach and so upset that he cries most of the time I am away. I would like to leave my husband and get a job to support myself and my son, but I am afraid that if I leave him he will make himself sick from crying. Can he get used to my being away?

(A)—If it were necessary for you to be away from your son, he would eventually adjust to it. But it certainly is not the ideal solution to your problem, either from the child's angle or yours.

Instead of running away from your problem, face it and try to solve it. You are not being fair to your child to deprive him of a home and companionship of a mother and father unless it is absolutely necessary. In your case, I cannot see that it is necessary.

Of course it is bad for a child to be brought up in an atmosphere charged with emotional tension. No wonder the child is high strung and nervous to the point where he gets sick to his stomach when you leave him.

He needs security, calm, and a feeling of love to be happy and relaxed. This you must try to provide for him. If your husband is bossy, you must give him some reason to think that you are incapable of running the home or taking care of your son.

Furthermore, if your husband strikes you, you must have done something to antagonize him. It takes two to make a quarrel. It is natural for you to resent being criticized but you are not remedying the situation by showing your antagonism and causing a quarrel. If you want your son to have the right type of home to grow up in, you must swallow some of your pride and refuse to have your feelings hurt or fight with your husband.

Dr. Hurlock is the author of a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this newspaper.

Hospital Auxiliary Fashion Show

An informal showing of summer fashions will be held in Eaton's Victoria Room on May 13 at 3 p.m. under auspices of the junior auxiliary, Royal Jubilee Hospital. Proceeds of the show will be used to further work in connection with redecorating of the new psychopathic ward of the hospital, a project which has been undertaken by the auxiliary members this spring.

Eaton's of Canada has gathered together a notable collection of fashion which will present their great summer opening, and while there will be a number of fashions for more formal wear, the emphasis is being laid on sportswear and informal summer dresses.

Ida Bianco will be the commentator and mannequins will include Jan Joslin, Barbara Ann Hindson, Nona Damaske, Helen Cooper, Dorothy Black, Ina Bain and "Jimmy" Crossley.

Swim suits in some of the new and glamorous cottons and nylons, fashioned by Rose-Marie Reid, of Vancouver, American cottons by Cole of California and nylons and lace by Jantzen will be a feature of the show.

Tickets which have been limited in number are still available at Eaton's. The price of the fashion show includes tea.

Russian Women Are Pretty But Very Plainly Dressed

Russian women deserve a better deal from the state beauty parlor. They're hefty and they work hard. Few have nice clothes, and a dress must last a long time. But they remain feminine, even those at heavy work.

They have clear complexions, abundant hair which is usually worn long, and good capable hands.

You wish someone would show them how to dress their hair, teach beauty operators how to set soft instead of frizzy waves, and devise becoming styles for long tresses.

So says Bill Boss, Canadian Press staff writer, recently in Russia on assignment.

There are plenty of "pareek-makker-skayas" hairdressers in Russia. The word comes from the old English "peruke maker." The staffs would hardly qualify for jobs in the West.

Cosmetics, if any, are usually limited to a touch of lipstick. Few women carry compacts although beauty-aids like powder and rouge are sold. They like nail polish, though not in brilliant colors, but chipped polish is seldom removed and their nails appear "flecked" rather than coated.

Perfumes are expensive and inferior. The top brand is "Kremlin," at 72 rubles—three to five days' pay. Personal soaps are highly aromatic, too, and a newly-bathed Russian in the next theatre seat is as distinguishable as those who don't wash often enough. Not many wear jewelry. Novelty ornaments are scarce, and the real stuff is costly.

Soviet women would like more attractive clothes. Those they have are adequate, and have kept in style for years. Suits are worn to the office, dresses reserved for evening wear. Most are long sleeved, and it is a darling woman who appears in a Moscow restaurant with a low neckline.

Clothes are available ready-made. Moscow and other large cities have a "House of Fashions" where mannequins display the latest creations. Each dress is numbered. After the show, most shoppers go to another floor and buy patterns which can be made up at home or in a state-operated dressmaker's shop.

One Moscow dress designer happened on an American fashion magazine and lifted a few ideas. His styles were rejected as "too advanced."

While he was in Moscow, Bill Boss' mother sent him the Easter number of another fashion magazine. In three days it was dog-eared. The women raved but didn't think they'd dare.

'Ike' Scorns Row Over 'This Private'

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower, once showing evident disdain, said Thursday he doesn't consider the stormy Army-McCarthy hearings very much to talk about and hopes they will end quickly.

He told a news conference rather curtly that he never had discussed army treatment of Pvt. G. David Schine whom he referred to as "this private."

Schine is former unpaid consultant to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and pivotal figure in the Army-McCarthy dispute.

Shortly after the president voiced hope for an early end to the hearings, the senate investigating committee met behind closed doors to consider ways of speeding up the sessions. The possibility of night sessions was discussed but members hoped other means could be found.

'KEEP ON PUSHING'

Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) said it was decided to "just keep on pushing at this time" and to enforce strictly rules on the "relevancy and materiality of questions." McCarthy has been citing numerous "points of order" to make points in his behalf.

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), a subcommittee member, agreed "heartily" with Mr. Eisenhower on the need for a speedy conclusion. Sen. John L. McClellan (Ark.), top Democratic member, and "I think the President may be right."

The Army-McCarthy hearings were brought up at Mr. Eisenhower's news conference by a reporter who referred to testimony Wednesday concerning "disparaging" remarks Private Schine while he was stationed at Fort Dix, N.J.

HAD TWO BOSSES

The reporter said Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens was "chided" for letting the army go so long under pressure by McCarthy in behalf of Schine. The questioner also said Stevens testified he had two bosses—the President and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Mr. Eisenhower then was asked whether Wilson had ever discussed "this problem" with him.

You mean this talking about this private? Mr. Eisenhower asked curtly, his face flushing.

When the reporter said "Yes" and the pressure being put on for him, the President replied he had never heard of it, repeating himself.

Mr. Eisenhower then was asked what he thought of all the excitement in the senate over the privileges granted "this private."

The President asked reporters to excuse him for declining to talk about something that he does not consider very much to talk about. He said he just hopes it is all concluded very quickly.

Flo, Now Down South, Faces Grim Contrast in Chill Strait Water

Flo has two months to go. Florence Chadwick, queen of the long distance swimmers, will come to Victoria at the end of June to start grueling seven-hours-a-day training for her world-interest swim from Victoria to Port Angeles.

When last heard from, Flo was 'way down south, in N'Orleans where the weather and water is good and warm. There she is in training, as usual, and helping a fashion-conscious department store exploit a line of swim suits.

Her tough swim here will be in direct contrast to the warm southern waters: she'll face a temperature of approximately 51 degrees in her 18 1/2-mile swim across the Juan de Fuca Strait.

In the BapeTimes-sponsored swim the three-time conqueror of the English Channel stands to get $10,000 if she makes it, $7,500 if she doesn't.

Everywhere she goes in her personal appearance tour of the U.S., Miss Chadwick talks of the coming venture with enthusiasm—for TV, radio and newspapers.

FISH TOO CLOSE

In Houston, Texas, she told reporters of her most embarrassing experience: When she was swimming the tricky Catalina Channel in 1932 a little fish got into her swim suit, and wiggled and wiggled before the TV cameras.

But despite her international swim reputation—five world records—the Fabulous Flo is not even remotely interested in publicity as such. Thus she refused to swim the Mississippi while down south. "It would only be a publicity stunt," she said.

"It's all a sport to me. It's a challenge," she said of the Victoria-Port Angeles swim, "and I feel accepting challenges is what makes the world go 'round."

The 33-year-old San Diego-born champion, who ordinarily weighs 134 pounds but loses about six pounds in a distance swim, will train here under Archie McKinnon, Canadian Olympics coach. She'll swim off Oak Bay daily.

When she hits the water here she will be fortified by a couple of T-bone steaks and several pounds of lanolin oil as protection against the cold.

"I expect this to be my toughest swim," the world's top woman swimmer told a Houston interviewer.

Times published Stuart Keate is now in New York ironing out last-minute arrangements with Miss Chadwick's agent.

The eyes of the international sports world are turning to Victoria.

Right to Use Troops Held For President

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House today overwhelmingly defeated an amendment to bar the president from sending U.S. troops abroad without congressional approval and then passed the new $26,684,250,486 (B) defense appropriations bill unanimously.

The 377 to 0 vote came after two days of debate, most of it centering on the controversial troops proposal by Rep. Frederic Coudert (R, N.Y.). The amendment was defeated 214 to 37.

Coudert stoutly resisted efforts by GOP house leaders to get him to withdraw his proposal. He stuck to his guns even after President Eisenhower personally intervened against the proposal only a few hours before the showdown balloting.

WOULD SLOW ACTION

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference the proviso did not belong in an appropriation bill and that it would hamper the chief executive's power to act swiftly in the present uncertain and fluid world conditions.

Mr. Eisenhower also assured the American people he would not commit the United States to war in Indo-China or anywhere else without the prior consent of Congress. While Coudert had Indo-China in mind, his proposal would have restricted the President's power to send troops to other theatres as well.

Coudert called the amendment a "great opportunity" for Congress to reassert its right to declare war.

Newspaper Circulation 217 Million Daily

PARIS (Reuters)—Total circulation of the world's 7,520 daily newspapers in 1952 was more than 217,000,000 a day, according to a press survey published Thursday. The report, issued by the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization, shows Britain had the highest circulation a head in the world, with 611 newspaper copies sold for every 1,000 inhabitants.

India Entitled to Own Decision St. Laurent Tells CP Directors

TORONTO (BUP) — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent says Canadians have no more right to urge India to change her policy than they had to urge the United States to change her policy in June, 1940, "when the western world was crashing about our ears."

The Prime Minister told the annual meeting of The Canadian Press that the Indian policy was not to make precise commitments in advance.

"That was our traditional position until six or seven years ago," he said. "That seems to be India's position now."

"We should not forget that until we had signed the North Atlantic Treaty, we in North America had generally held the view that it was preferable not to make precise commitments in advance as to the action we would take if ever there was an outbreak of war."

SUSPICION PREVAILS

The Prime Minister said westerners were regarded with suspicion in Asia "but that does not mean that the people there do not want peace and stability as much as we do and are not willing to work with us in achieving those ends—once we can convince them we are on the right road."

"But we cannot expect them to assume that our way is always the right way," he said. Mr. St. Laurent said he supposed it was natural for Canadians to think South and Southeast Asia should choose one side or the other in the cold war, and a Communist victory over the West would be very serious for Asian peoples in the long run.

NOT 'INOCULATED'

But the fall of European nations to Communism could not have the same immediate significance for Asians as it did for Canadians, he said. They have had so little direct experience with Russian imperialism they were "not inoculated" as was the West against Communist propaganda.

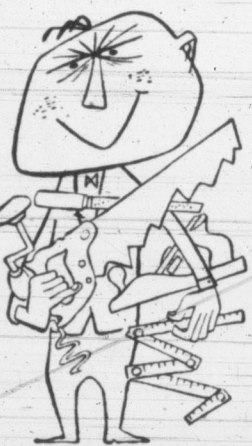

"On the other hand," he said,

Vancouver to Get $194,000 Harbor Winters Tells House

OTTAWA (CP)—The government expects to complete next year a $194,000 fishing harbor at Vancouver, Works Minister Winters said Thursday. Land has been purchased from an Indian reservation at a cost of $90,000 and work is being delayed until an agreement is reached with the Vancouver harbor commission for administration of the fishing harbor, he said during Commons study of public works estimates.

PEACEFUL PEACE CONFERENCE SAY SWISS; ONE SHOT SO FAR

GENEVA (AP)—The Swiss army reported Thursday that it has been a very peaceful conference—only one shot fired so far.

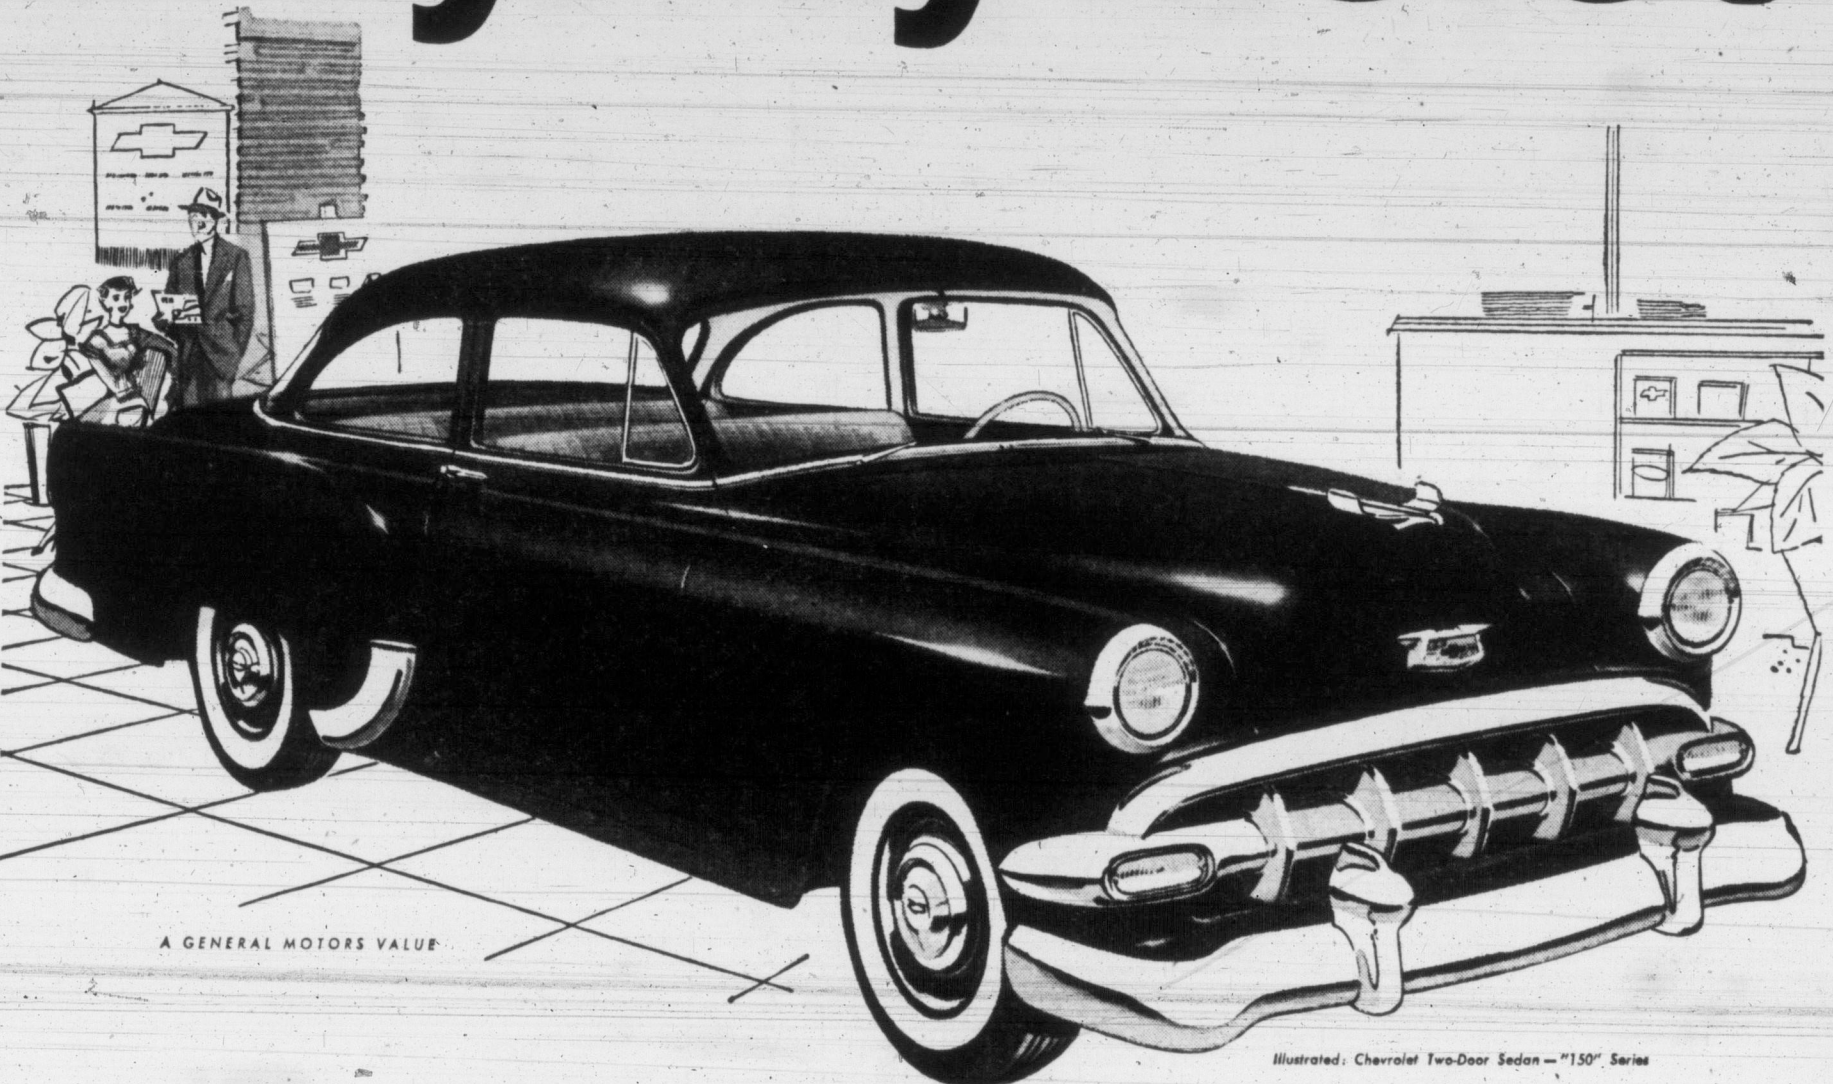

Last Sunday at 4 a.m., the army's reports show, a soldier on duty at the Russian villa, Les Chatlons, heard a noise in the bushes and fired one shot. The noise stopped.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was not sleeping there that night.

'Possible Raid' Warning May Be 3 Short Wails on Sirens

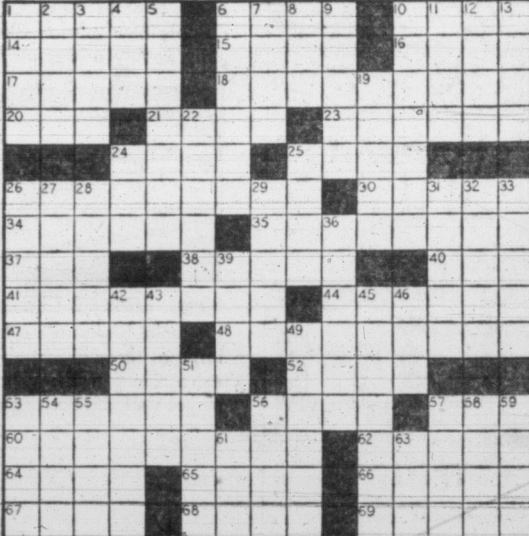

Three short blasts covering a period of 150 seconds may be sounded to warn Victoria to prepare for a "possible" enemy air attack.

This likelihood came, Thursday after several tests on the air-raid siren at Douglas and Superior Streets.

Further similar tests involving all sirens of the district will be held shortly. The test results will be conveyed to the B.C. government.

The "yellow" pre-raid warning by siren, previously forbidden, has been allowed by the B.C. government.

Wicks Promises New Labor Code In Force Soon

B.C.'s new Labor Relations Act will be put into effect by proclamation before August 1, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said Thursday.

And he said there was a possibility the act would be proclaimed before that date.

Labor charges that the government would be afraid to proceed with the act Mr. Wicks termed "ridiculous." We are just working out the administrative details.

Labor bodies have been strong in condemnation of the act which replaces the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act of 1947. They object to power taken away from the labor relations board and given to the minister, and also features which curtail strike action.

Wonderful Man, Wonderful Time But No Romance

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Singing star Ella Logan said today she thinks William O'Dwyer is a "wonderful man" but that there is "nothing" to reports of their romance.

O'Dwyer, former U.S. ambassador to Mexico and former New York City mayor, has been doing the night clubs with Miss Logan nearly every night for two weeks.

He refused flatly to even discuss the possibility of their romance, but she said, "I am having a wonderful time with a wonderful man. And that's all there is to it."

The singer is on a vacation here before starting rehearsals for a new Broadway musical show. She said she is shopping for a house in Mexico and might build one in the nearby resort of Cuernavaca.

"But that has nothing to do with Bill," she added hastily. "However, it would be a pleasure to be able to borrow a cup of sugar from him as a neighbor."

Brock Chisholm Fears Civilization Doomed Unless Children Act

World Government Within Generation Only Hope for H-Bomb Era

"Warfare is obsolete—unless the human race is determined to wipe itself out," warned Dr. Brock Chisholm, former director-general of the UN's World Health Organization, Thursday night.

He told the Family and Children's Service annual meeting in Oak Bay Junior High School that civilization is doomed unless the next generation can achieve world government.

"There will have to be world government. If it isn't done by our children there will be no human race left by the time they have passed on," he said.

"The people who are against world government are afraid of losing some symbol . . . for the sake of the lives of hundreds of thousands of people," he charged. He pointed to India, calling for understanding of the outlook of that people where malnutrition and early death faces every child.

"The granaries of the U.S. and Canada are overflowing but the economic systems don't allow it to get to them. Some other system must be devised. . . . No longer will millions of people be satisfied to die peacefully by starvation," he added in describing the outlook of . . . "a new kind of world in the very last few years."

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

(A) "BEAT THE DEVIL" (Odeon)—Our old friends Director John Huston and Humphrey Bogart of "African Queen" fame join together in an insane affair as one could wish for. The only difficulty is that we couldn't understand it.

A Santana-United Artists production, it was all filmed last year at Ravello, on the Gulf of Sorrento, and took unto its bosom such stars as Jennifer Jones, the magnificent English actor Robert Morley, the veteran "killer with the poached egg eyes" Peter Lorre, and as fine a character actor as you would wish to meet, Edward Underdown who plays a bogus British peer to the hilt.

The plot in brief: Bogart, an American adventurer, is bound for British East Africa with his Italian wife, Gina Lollobrigida, along with four "business" associates, a weird looking tribe of assassins which includes Morley, Lorre, Marco Tullio and Ivor Bernard. At the little seaport Bogart bumps into Jennifer (blonde for this one) and her stylized husband Underdown. The desperate "assassins" (or maybe the quotes should be on the "desperate") are looking for uranium fields and get hoodwinked by the prodigious lying of Jennifer into believing that she too, with her husband, have rich lands in British East Africa. As it turns out Jennifer's hubby is the son of a rooming-house keeper but is playing the role of the squire he always wanted to be.

The whole take to lifeboat when their ship sinks, no, that isn't right, but it will do for all it has to do with the plot. Anyway, Bogart, Jones, Morley, Gina and the rest are captured by Arabs as spies. All this is intermixed with Jennifer making a play for Humphrey and Gina lavishing her charms on Underdown, perpetually in bed with a chill on my liver. Beastly nuisance.

We sat through the whole thing wondering whether to smile at the film's outrageous shenanigans or brood at the wonderful acting of everyone. Just as we were tumbling into bed we decided we should have roared with laughter throughout.

Now we're not so sure.

Don't Mollycoddle the Child

Dr. Chisholm, as a psychiatrist, felt that the security of love by parents to their children would produce youths who are loving, tolerant and friendly. He thought that too often parents try to make a "perfect gentleman of Johnny by the time he is four."

"The child is pressed out of normal patterns . . . children are entitled to be savage for a little while."

He criticized the trend of some modern parents to protect children from life and to bind them with prejudice, anxiety and fear.

"Once or twice falling downstairs, if it is soon enough, is practically harmless," he explained, adding that no child should be taught that someone is always guarding him.

Another mistake he thought was to blame anything but the child for its misfortunes. "Spank the chair for tripping Johnny, and for the rest of his life 'Johnny' blames circumstances other than himself for his troubles."

The doctor, who once startled Canada into a controversy by advocating the end of the Santa Claus myth, declared: "When parents distort truth it is not their proper role."

But mostly he condemned the habit of bringing children up to "think locally."

"It is up to the home, school and church to alter the idea that space extends only as far as one can hear or see, or as far as one's own national boundaries. 'Our children must be brought up to break through those barriers.'"

Parliament Ponders Spending Your Money

OTTAWA (BUP)—Late filers across the nation mailed their 1953 income tax today while parliament prepared to vote on what to do with some of the money this year.

Agriculture Minister James G. Gardiner's $76,300,000 budget for the fiscal year ending next March 31 was at the top of today's schedule in the House of Commons. It was just a coincidence that talk among lawmakers about spending money came on the final day of payment for last year's tax.

Taxpayers who fail to file their returns by midnight may be stuck with a bill for five per cent extra as the penalty for tardiness.

The Commons Wednesday passed Public Works Minister Robert Winters' $151,148,000 spending program and approved in principle appropriations of $22,000,000 for the Department of Northern Affairs and National Development, headed by Jean Lesage. Details of Lesage's estimated expenditures will be taken up next week.

The taxes due today amounted to some $1,189,000,000, representing the personal income tax portion of a total budget of $1,400,000,000 last year. Tax rates for this year were unchanged in Finance Minister D. C. Abbott's April 6 budget, but the amounts actually paid by individuals will be less because Montreal Dresses Snapped Up in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—Three hundred Montreal-made pucker nylon dresses have been eagerly snapped up by customers of a west end London store (Swan and Edgar Ltd.).

"We could have sold three times the number," a dress buyer said today. "I would import more tomorrow if I could under the import license system." The system controls dollar imports.

The Canadian products were among the cheapest nylon dresses yet seen in London. Simple in style, they sold for 63 shillings (about $9).

Pope Stresses Chastity Need For Clergy

Celibacy Rule Stressed Again

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Pope Pius XII issued a 10,000-word encyclical on "holy virginity" today, outlining to Catholic clergymen the "fundamental importance" of chastity and bachelorhood.

A Vatican summary said the document, the 24th encyclical of the Pope's 15-year reign, was issued because "the pontiff has become seriously concerned with the errors which have been propagated about this subject in recent years."

The Pope re-emphasized the "solemn" teachings of the church that clergymen and men and women members of religious orders should rule sex out of their lives and devote their full activities to the mission of the church.

The encyclical was addressed to Catholic bishops of the world under the date of March 25 and was made public today. It made these major points, according to the official English-language summary:

1. Chastity is a superior state to marriage among the clergy and religious orders.

2. "The Pope disapproves the importance some give to the role of sexual life in human equilibrium and he also finds fault with a certain concept of marriage which makes the spiritual union, and even the physical union of spouses, the almost indispensable means of Christian perfection."

3. Parents and educators should avoid the error that chastity is an inferior state. They should teach the young that they fulfill a "precise wish of God" when they take up the ecclesiastical life.

Kendall to Head Optimists; Date Set for Contest

Preliminaries of the 1954 Optimist Club public speaking contest will be held here May 6 and 7.

Charles Hallett, boys' work chairman, told the annual meeting of the Optimists Thursday night that 18 local boys who have studied the Optimist-sponsored public speaking course are eligible to enter the contest which may result in a $1,000 prize in the finals at Houston, Texas.

Winner of the local contest will travel to Yakima, Wash., to compete in the Pacific Northwest elimination trials.

Club members elected Rev. Douglas Kendall president of the Optimists during the meeting.

John Brown and Thomas Price were re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively.

New boys' work chairman will be Fred G. Tanner. Others elected were: Albert White, ways and means chairman; Norman White, program chairman; Gerald Cross, membership committee chairman.

ANTI-POLIO SHOTS FOR ALL WOULD COST $13,000,000

TORONTO (CP)—It would cost more than $13,000,000 to provide a single dose of gamma globulin for each of the 3,500,000 children in Canada under the age of 15, a Canadian Red Cross official said today. Such a dose would give five-week protection against poliomyelitis.

Dr. George W. Miller, national director of the Red Cross blood transfusion service, told the annual meeting of the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario this would also require 3,900,000 donations of blood annually in addition to those now used in hospitals for transfusion therapy.

Greater Freedom For Nazi Leaders

BERLIN (AP)—The four occupation powers agreed Thursday night on minor relaxations of the rules on seven major Nazi leaders in Spandau prison.

A communique disclosed Soviet willingness to go along with several requests made originally by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and espoused by the Western powers.

The major concession was that the seven will be buried in the prison courtyard in marked graves.

Pensioners Get Raise

Every little bit helps, is the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, 3275 Seaton Road, as they received their first "old-age" pension cheque with the new $5 addition. Between 30,000 and 35,000 old-age security, old-age assistance, and blind pensioners will get the added $5 monthly hike, as well as about 15,000 individuals on social assistance. Total bill to B.C. will be about $200,000 monthly. Most cheques have been mailed, some delayed in processing. Those missing April cheques get $10 in May. (Times Photo.)

On Tuesday afternoon Governor-General Vincent Massey will address a joint meeting of the two Houses of the United States Congress. Mr. Massey, making his first state visit to a foreign capital since becoming governor-general will be accompanied by Defense Minister Brooke Claxton and U.S. Ambassador to Canada R. Douglas Stuart. Monday night Mr. Massey will be the dinner guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower. The governor-general will give a dinner for the Eisenhowers at the Canadian Embassy Tuesday evening.

New Rail Links Will Open Rich Mineral Country

OTTAWA (UPI)—Plans for two new railway lines to tap northern Canadian mineral riches were announced today by Transport Minister Lionel Chever.

Authority will be sought to build routes to the Chibougamau and Beattyville area of northern Quebec and to Lake Manitowadge in Ontario. The two routes will cover approximately 288 and 25 miles respectively and cost an estimated total of $38,750,000.

Export Rubber To Russians

LONDON (UPI)—Britain announced today it will lift all controls Monday on exports of rubber to Russia and her European satellites but is keeping the ban on shipments to Red China.

Daring French Defenders Attack Reds

HANOI (AP)—French Union commandos in daring daylight raids struck again today at Communist Viet Minh troops edging their way inch by inch towards the heart of Dien Bien Phu. Five swift attacks were launched northwest, north, south and east of the main French defense complex, netting 20 Viet Minh killed and the smashing of rebel gun positions and arms depots right on the rim of the fortress. Rebel progress in encroaching slowly upon French defenses was confined to gains of feet or yards and often these were being lost in light but swift attacks by the French defenders. It was still 1,800 feet to the heart of the main French defense complex.

25 Years in Jail

OTTAWA (CP)—Hugh Conrad Hayes, 25, Ottawa dime store clerk convicted of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Miss Grace Currie, his landlady, today was sentenced to 25 years in penitentiary.

8 NATIONS, VIET MINH TO TALK PEACE

Indo-China Parley Agreed in Principle

By MAX HARRELSON

GENEVA (AP)—The East and West today were reported virtually agreed that nine parties will sit around the conference table on Indo-China.

They will be the Big Four, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France, plus Communist China, representatives of the Communist-led Viet Minh, Indo-China rebels and the three French-sponsored Indo-China governments of Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

French informants said a few details remain to be worked out, but it appears that the major obstacles had been removed from the start of a parley on Indo-China as soon as the current fruitless debates on Korea are concluded.

This word from the French indicates that Bao Dai, the Viet Nam chief of state, has agreed that his representatives will meet with the Viet Minh. Bao Dai's previous opposition to the rebels' participation had been the major obstacle preventing organization of the talks.

Agreement on the composition of the talks would make it possible for invitations to be sent out at once to the three Indo-China states and to the Viet Minh regime. The other proposed participants already are in Geneva.

KOREA 'HOPELESS'

Most observers already have written off any chance of a Korean settlement as hopeless. The proposals of the Communists and the west are as far apart as they were in 1948 when the United Nations first approved its plan for unification of the divided peninsula by UN-supervised elections.

Drinks Decision in 60 Days Seen for Esquimalt, Oak Bay

Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich residents will be faced with the decision on whether to approve the new liquor outlets within two months.

Here are the steps to be taken before cocktail bars and restaurants serving wine and beer with meals can be put into operation in the three outside municipalities:

First, they must be designated as licensing areas by the Liquor Commission. Col. D. McGugan indicated Thursday that this could take as long as a month.

After designation, implementation of the new Liquor Act is subject to two local-option hurdles. Any one of the municipal councils could ask for a plebiscite like that held in Victoria Wednesday, or they could force a plebiscite through a petition of 35 per cent of the eligible voters.

If no plebiscite is called, or forced, the Liquor Commission will process all applications made for new outlet licenses. Issuing of licenses could take from one week to a month, and a further delay would be necessary by alterations and renovations by license holders.

NO CROSSWORD WINNER; PRIZE INCREASES TO $275

Times crossworders ran into several puzzlers this week and failed to come up with a correct solution to the weekly crossword. As a result, the prize for today's puzzle jumps to $275. On one of the sticklers the puzzle composer rules that "rink" rather than "sink" is the best answer for "where you always put water." He points out that many sinks are used for acids, oils, etc. so this word does not stand up to the definition. The complete solution is on Page 31 along with Puzzle No. 58, worth $275.

Y' don't need daylight savin' to see the spring weather ain't really here yet.

Looks like there'll be a lot o' likker outlets here, but I bet th' intakes'll match 'em.

They haven't settled any fights at Geneva yet, but at least they've decided which nations'll appear in th' main event.

BOY 'NOT RESPONDING' AFTER CYCLE MISHAP

A 12-year-old student at the Protestant Orphanage remained in only semi-conscious condition at noon today after a collision with a playmate at 8.40 a.m., while riding his bicycle.

Jubilee Hospital officials said the injured boy, Gilbert Payne, was in only fair condition, "... not responding too well."

Georgina Watkins, 9, also resident at the Orphanage, was also hurt in the collision and was taken to hospital but released later after treatment.

IWA, OPERATORS TALKS COLLAPSE

Deadlock Over Union Security Clause Puts Problem in Hands of Conciliation Officer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Negotiations between British Columbia coastal woodworkers and lumber operators have ended in deadlock, Joe Morris, district president of the International Woodworkers of America (CCL-CIO), said today.

The union is negotiating for a 1954-55 master agreement which includes a hold-the-line policy on wages. Present coast-wide scale is $1.49 an hour.

Mr. Morris said the union has referred the dispute to the conciliation branch of the provincial labor department and that a conciliation officer will be appointed to try to iron out the difficulties.

He said the deadlock resulted from a stipulation by Forest Industrial Relations, Ltd., representing the operators, that the union "withdraw all proposals for an additional degree of union security as a prior condition to any agreement on any or all of the remaining proposals for contract revision."

BOTH STAND FIRM

The district president, representing 32,000 coastal loggers, said "this insistent demand for the elimination of one of the union's major proposals from the discussions as the price to be paid for any hope of settlement, precluded the possibility of agreement being reached at this stage."

J. M. Billings, manager of F.I.R., said in a statement: "The operators again steadily refused to agree to any settlement."

Picture Altered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Joseph McCarthy told Senate investigators today that James Juliana, a member of his staff, altered a picture to make it show only Army Secretary Robert Stevens and Pte. G. David Schine standing together.

Southern Portion Suffers 95% Damage

VANCOUVER (CP)—Up to 95 per cent of the cherry, apricot and peach crop has been destroyed by frost in the south Okanagan Valley area 200 miles east of here, horticulturists said today.

Fringe areas suffered 20 per cent damage, and on the overall picture throughout the area, orchardists predicted a 25 per cent loss.

John Smith, supervising horticulturist at Kelowna, centre of the fruit-growing area, said it would be several weeks before the apple picture was clarified, but that the northern part of the Okanagan had escaped "rather lightly."

"The apple buds were not sufficiently developed to suffer too greatly," he said. Mr. Smith said that while he would hesitate to estimate the cash loss, damage in the south area "was severe."

Even Aklavik on the Arctic Ocean was warmer than some parts of B.C. overnight—with a minimum temperature of 17 above, compared with the 11 above registered at Prince George.

Records for April 30 were shattered as Vancouver's air temperatures skidded to 31 above. Abbotsford in the Fraser Valley hit 27 above; Kamloops registered 17 and Penticton 22.

More Frost Here Tonight

There is no snow on the ground, no ice on the puddles, and no frost on the windows—but there might as well be, according to weatherman William Mackie.

"I'm putting this month at the bottom of the list where I can forget it ever happened," he said today. "Our mean temperature so far has been 46.6 degrees, only a shade higher than the all-time low of 1911 and 1920."

Hours of sunshine and rainfall will be about normal for April, according to present totals of 192.3 hours and

1.20 inches. Only the temperature has been out of line. "There has been no record low," he said. "That was 27.7 degrees, set in April of 1911."

He predicted frost in sheltered areas and clear skies tonight and Saturday, with light winds. Temperatures will range between 35 and 53 degrees.

Mr. Mackie said today he had discharged one of his staff.

"Remember that groundhog we had around here that made the prediction in February of all that mild weather," he said. "I've kicked him out."

Audrey Had a Svelte Time Dieting

The caterer's loss will be the couturier's gain, Audrey Johnson wails as she reaches the end of her 'Times-Josephine Lowman diet. "Only one dress will fit me now," she complains, while friend, Elsie Edwards, decided

Audrey has enough unnecessary dress material for a junior-size circus tent. It's all the boss's fault—he started the idea—so the least he can do is finance a new wardrobe. (Audrey can dream, can't she?) — (Times Photos)

LOOK OUT, BOSS, SHE'S AFTER A RAISE

Diet Finished, Audrey Needs New Wardrobe for Trim Figure

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

I sit down to write this final report on the nine-day diet probe with a light heart!

Something else is light too. The hands that are typing these words are attached to a body that is eight and one-half pounds lighter than it was nine days ago!

I weighed in last night, folks, and those are the figures, checked and double-checked by hubby—who incidentally closely inspected the scales, suspicion of hocus-pocus and funny business oozing at every pore.

Now, however, old sour-grapes has to admit that all is accurate and above-board.

Of course, the boss is demanding to know what happened to that other pound-and-a-half I was supposed to lose. I told him I had gained one-and-a-half laughing at my own jokes in these articles.

Pretty lame, admittedly, but in my wardrobe fits me now—everything is at least two inches too large! So when I finish this writing stint, I shall cinch up my belt, draw myself up to my new slim height and beard the boss in his lair.

I shall tell him that if he doesn't provide me with a new wardrobe—or at least foot my dressmaking bills—he will have to find a new music-drama critic on account of the old one can't go to concerts with the possibility of losing her skirt at any moment when she forgets to clutch it to her emaciated waistline!

But if I know the boss, he's pretty cagey and I can make a guess at how he'll wriggle out of that. Figuring that if I develop some muscles they'll take the place of my lost pounds, he'll probably order me to get into training to compete in the Straits swim with Flo Chadwick!

Tornado Batters Fort Worth, Texas

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A tornado, strong winds and heavy rains battered Fort Worth today, causing thousands of dollars in damage.

The funnel-shaped cloud, moved in with a roar. Trees were topped, windows smashed, TV antennae downed and roofs damaged in all sections of the city.

Heir to Fortune Held in Holdup

TORONTO (CP)—John Leonard Smallman, 21, heir to a $3,000,000 fortune and termed "Canada's wealthiest young man," was charged by Toronto police with robbery with violence in a $41 hold-up.

Police said Smallman is charged in connection with the beating and robbery last December of Lawrence T. Nash. Nash was in hospital for several days recovering from injuries suffered in the beating robbery at the hands of three men.

Raise for Canadian Judges Likely

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is expected to introduce legislation at the current session of Parliament to give Canadian judges another boost in pay.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said today in the Commons the government plans to amend the Judges Act, but he did not elaborate.

However, it is understood that legislation will provide for pay increases. They are expected to run as high as 25 per cent.

Churchill Urges 'Links' With Russia

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill said today links should be established with Russia which would convince the Russian people and government that Britain wishes them peace, happiness and prosperity.

He was addressing the annual demonstration of the Primrose League, an auxiliary organization of his Conservative Party.

The prime minister did not specify what kind of "links" he had in mind.

20,000 LOSE HOMES IN GREEK EARTHQUAKE

NO CROSSWORD WINNER; PRIZE INCREASES TO $275

Times crossworders ran into several puzzlers this week and failed to come up with a correct solution to the weekly crossword. As a result, the prize for today's puzzle jumps to $275.

On one of the sticklers the puzzle composer rules that "rink" rather than "sink" is the best answer for "where you always put water." He points out that many sinks are used for acids, oils, etc., so this word does not stand up to the definition. The complete solution is on Page 31 along with Puzzle No. 58, worth $275.

COOK-CUCKOO HAVE TROUBLE

LONDON (CP)—The clock over St. James's Palace stopped at 12 and Londoners wondered why it stayed that way. It was halted by the works ministry because it needs soundproofing—it keeps the palace clock awake.

Police Get Raise

VANCOUVER (BUP)—City policemen today had a 3 per cent across-the-board pay boost and promise of a "new deal" in promotion procedure.

Pensioners Get Raise

Every little bit helps, is the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, 3275 Seaton Road, as they received their first "old-age" pension cheque with the new $5 addition. Between 30,000 and 35,000 old-age security, old-age assistance, and blind pensioners will get the added $5 monthly hike, as well as about 15,000 individuals on social assistance. Total bill to B.C. will be about $200,000 monthly. Most cheques have been mailed, some delayed in processing. Those missing April cheques get $10 in May. (Times Photo.)

IWA, Operators Talks Collapse

VANCOUVER (CP)—Negotiations between British Columbia coastal woodworkers and lumber operators have ended in deadlock, Joe Morris, district president of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA-CIO), said today.

The union is negotiating for a 1954-55 master agreement which includes a hold-the-line policy on wages. Present cost-of-living is $1.49 an hour.

Mr. Morris said the union has referred the dispute to the conciliation branch of the provincial labor department and that a conciliation officer will be appointed to try to iron out the difficulties.

'Puzzling' $2 Million Sea Island Fire To Be Investigated by RCAF

VANCOUVER (BUP)—An Air Force board of inquiry was set up today to investigate a mysterious fire which ripped through the main hangar of the RCAF Sea Island base Thursday night which destroyed six planes, and caused damage estimated at $2,000,000.

The fire, which broke out in a heating plant in a storage portion of the 14-year-old building, raged out of control for several hours as violent explosions rocked the island at the mouth of the Fraser River.

Wing Commander D. C. S. McDonald said a Lancaster bomber, two Expediter Beechrafts, two Otters and one helicopter were lost in the blaze. The hangar housed the air-sea rescue unit, an air transit group, and a flying school. The planes belonged to the rescue group.

"This is a most serious blow to station operations," Wing Commander McDonald said. "An air force board will hold an immediate inquiry. There has been no suggestion of sabotage although the cause of the fire was very puzzling."

Explosions set off by gasoline in the planes in the hangar rocked the area and Verey pistols set up weird glows above the flames. The walls collapsed with a deafening roar as the flames spread.

Catastrophe was averted when a quick-thinking corporal organized a crew of men to move vehicles, including loaded fuel trucks, from an adjoining compound.

About 75 airmen swarmed through the smoke-filled hangar and rolled out several planes. The planes were locked and the airmen had to smash the glass windows of the cabins to get in and release the brakes. They managed to save three Canco flying boats but the tail-assembly of the Lancaster caught fire before it could be dragged from the hangar.

At Least 11 Killed, 100 Others Injured

Athens (AP)—Nearly 20,000 were made homeless by an earthquake which tumbled houses like packs of cards near Athens this afternoon. Interior Minister John Nikititsas said tonight.

First reports from the government said at least 11 persons were known to be dead and more than 100 injured.

He said the calamity was "comparable only to the catastrophic earthquake which laid waste the Ionian Island last August."

Nikititsas told a reporter that in Sophades, near Karditsa, 98 per cent of the houses collapsed.

In Karditsa 75 per cent of the houses collapsed and about 10,000 lost their homes.

In Pharsala 80 per cent of the houses collapsed and there was an unspecified number of dead and wounded.

Athens observatory seismographs registered at 9:03 a.m. an earthquake of "catastrophic intensity" with an epicentre about 200 miles northwest of Athens.

The epicentre was situated in central Greece near Trikkala and Agrafa.

8 NATIONS, VIET MINH WILL CONFER

By MAX HARRELSON

GENEVA (AP)—The East and West today were reported virtually agreed that nine parties will sit around the conference table on Indo-China.

They will be the Big Four, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France, plus Communist China, representatives of the Communist-led Viet Minh, Indo-China rebels and the three French-sponsored Indo-China governments of Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

French informants said a few details remain to be worked out, but it appears that the major obstacles had been removed from the start of a parley on Indo-China as soon as the current fruitless debates on Korea are concluded.

This word from the French indicates that Bao Dai, the Viet Nam chief of state, has agreed that his representatives will meet with the Viet Minh. Bao Dai's previous opposition to the rebels' participation had been the major obstacle preventing organization of the talks.

Agreement on the composition of the talks would make it possible for invitations to be sent out at once to the three Indo-China states and to the Viet Minh regime. The other proposed participants already are in Geneva.

BOY 'NOT RESPONDING' AFTER CYCLE MISHAP

A 12-year-old student at the Protestant Orphanage remained in only semi-conscious condition at noon today after a collision with a playmate at 8:40 a.m., while riding his bicycle.

Jubilee Hospital officials said the injured boy, Gilbert Payne, was in only fair condition. "... not responding too well."

Georgina Watkins, 9, also resident at the Orphanage, was also hurt in the collision and was taken to hospital but released later after treatment.
